LOOK OUT FOR FIRE!

To Theater Owners, Managers and Whom it May Concern:

This is to certify that I have equipped the Windsor theater in this city with the Lindgren stationary chemical fire engines. After examining all other systems of fire protection, and after repeated tests of the Lindgren stationary chemical fire engine, and upon the recommendation of the insurance underwriters, I have no hesitation in pronouncing it the cheapest and most powerful, as well as perfect, fire protection for theaters ever invented. In my opinion every theater and opera house in the United States, as well as Europe, should be equipped with these chemical fire engines and thus save the loss of life and thousands of dollars in property.

Respectfully,

See What a Practical Fireman Says.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 19, 1889.

To Whom it May Concern:

This is to certify that I, George A. Burbank, witnessed the exhibition of the Lindgren chemical engine test to-day, and as I have witnessed a great many such chemical tests in New York City, Boston, Mass., and other large cities in the East, I hereby state that it was the quickest and most satisfactory test, and was also pronounced so by two of our councilman and all the citizens present, and I will also state that the time of applying the chemical was left entirely to me and I did not give the word until the fire was well started, for in other tests I have witnessed they have always put the chemical on the minute the fire was started and water would answer just as well, as there was nothing but the flame started and the wood not charred, and I take great pleasure in recommending the "Lindgren" as far superior to any other "Chemical" engine on the market.

(Signed) GEORGE A. BURBANK, Secretary Paid Fire Department. Director of the Northwestern Fire Association. Was last year Secretary of the Northwestern Firemen's Association.

The above engines are made in one, three and five-gallon sizes for hand use; sixty-gallon single tank on two wheels, two eighty-gallon tanks on four wheels, sixty, one hundred, three hundred and five hundred-gallon stationary; other sizes made to order.

Committee Assignments of Senators Just Entering.

ALLEN AND SQUIRE SATISFIED

Senator Morgan Proposes to Send the Negroes to the Congo.

HERMANN SURE OF A GOOD PLACE

Bills For Public Buildings at Spokane Falls, Seattle and Tacoma—Donation of Arid Lands to the States.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The republican senatorial caucus this afternoon adopted the report of Platt's committee upon reorganization of committees. The new committees are as follows, with the republican membership:

On Immigration (standing)—Chandler, Hale, Evarts, Squire, Pettigrew.

Indian Depredations (special)—Moody, Paddock, Chandler, Allen.

The new senators are given memberships as follows: Chandler: Immigration (chairman), naval affairs, epidemic diseases, Indian depredations. Dixon, of Rhode Island: Postoffices and postroads, patents, revolutionary claims, additional accommodations for the library. Moody, of South Dakota: Indian depredations (chairman), mines and mining, pensions, immigration. Squire, of Washington: Coast defenses, public buildings and grounds, immigration, fisheries. Pierce, of North Dakota: Territories, pensions, census, civil service and retrenchment. Allen, of Washington: Public lands claims, woman suffrage, Indian depredations. Pettigrew, of South Dakota: Indian affairs, immigration; improvement of the Mississippi river, railroads. Casey, of North Dakota: Railroads, organization and conduct of executive departments, transportation routes to sea board, immigration.

To provide these places the caucus committee had in the first place vacancies on several committees; some of the older senators resigned from others, and memberships of committees were increased, none of the more important committees being changed.

The senators from North Dakota and Washington are happy over the result of the caucus deliberations of their colleagues. Never before was it so apparent that Montana is being badly slighted by the failure to send United States senators here to be sworn in and secure committeeships with the other new statesmen. When they do get here less attention will be paid to them than has been given to the first six that were provided for to-day. Further than this, they must hope for committeeships from the republican caucus, for the democratic caucus has no power to give the Montana senators, should they be democrats, anything. The republicans are conducting the senate of the United States and they fix the places on committees.

Senator Pierce, of North Dakota, drew five committees. Those he is most pleased with are territories, census and pensions. The latter is Senator Davis's committee, and has developed into one of the most important in the senate. As a member of the census committee Colonel Pierce will be brought more in contact with his old friend Robert P. Porter, and may be able to name some of the employes of the bureau, thus making places for his home friends. He has been so long in a territory that he will be an available member of the committee on territories. The civil service committee may develop into one of the greatest importance before the close of the session, but retrenchment is not liable to occupy much of the senator's time.

Senator Casey secured three important committees—transportation routes to the seaboard, to which questions that his people are generally interested in will be referred; railroads and immigration are also good committees, while that of organization and conduct of executive departments will not require so much of his time.

Senator Squire was very glad to be made a member of the committees on coast defenses, public buildings and grounds and fisheries, as well as immigration, all being committees which handle matters of moment to the state of Washington.

Senator Allen, as a member of the public lands and Indian depredations, will have much to look after that affects not only Washington state but also Oregon. There are also many claim bills of these states that will come before him. Woman suffrage will not occupy much of his time.

The senators of the new states are to have a room fitted up in the capitol for their especial use. The senators who are chairmen of committees have rooms which, when not used for committee meetings, are occupied by senators as their private rooms. The new senators who have no chairmanships will have one general room for conferences and for the use usual to committee room.

Senator Morgan, of Alabama, was asked to-day by an Associated Press reporter the purport of the resolution offered by him yesterday regarding trade and commerce with the free state of the Congo, etc. The senator said: "When the convention of Powers met in Berlin to fix the status of the Congo state, the United States did not accept the conclusions of the convention, and therefore has no political right in that country. I do not know that it has ever been brought to the attention of Mr. Blaine, but I am anxious that it should, and that the United States should secure its just political power on the Congo. My reason for desiring this is that it may be able to encourage the negroes of this country who have wealth and enterprise, but have not standing and never will have here, to engage in trade in that country. I ultimately have in view general emigration of the negroes of the United States to the Congo. They came from that country and should return. Here their civilization is wasted; there it might be developed to the building up of a government and country that shall be a credit to them."

The democratic members will meet in caucus shortly to arrange the minority representation on the committees so that they can be reported to the senate before adjournment for the holiday recess.

Speaker Reed will probably appoint Representative Carter chairman of the mines and mining committee, if he will be given a place on that committee. Mr. Wilson will probably be given a place on the public buildings and grounds, Hansbrough, of North Dakota, on public lands, Gifford, of South Dakota, on Indian affairs and Pickler on irrigation.

Representative Carter has been bustling all day as a member of the committee of preparation for celebration of Washington's Inauguration. The other members of the committee are perfectly willing that a live man like Carter shall do a great deal of work in a matter of this kind.

T. F. Oakes, president of the Northern Pacific railroad, was in the city last week accompanied by General Solicitor McNaught, and General Manager Hannaford, to discuss with the Western members of the senate and house a plan to be laid before congress at this session for the irrigation of the arid lands of the West. Mr. Oakes proposed that congress give each of the Western states the arid lands within its borders. The Northern Pacific will lend its aid to the irrigation companies to be formed under the authority of the individual states for the improvement of these lands. The proposition to take the irrigation problem out of the hands of the general government is based on the claim that the proposition to appropriate the millions necessary to carry out the scheme of irrigation will meet with strong opposition in the East; and also on the claim that congress will take fifteen years to accomplish what a state legislature might do in five.

Senators Allen and Squire brought in some bills asking appropriations for the state of Washington to-day. Mr. Squire had three, each one asking money for a public building, one at Spokane Falls, one at Tacoma and one at Seattle. Each bill asked an appropriation of $300,000.

Senator Allen's bill asked for $16,000 to reimburse the state for expenses over and above the former appropriation for the constitutional convention last summer.

Generally speaking, the democrats are satisfied with the committees thus far announced in the house. California republicans not on the committees are not so well pleased. They rather feel that the Reed men on the delegation have been exalted at the expense of other members. General Vandever feels as though San Francisco and Sacramento had carried off the prizes. De Haven doesn't feel quite right about it. Vandever has an ambition to get on the committee on coinage, and DeHaven wants the rivers and harbors, but California has her quota already.

There is a rather bitter contest between DeHaven and Hermann, of Oregon, for the river and harbor committee, which is said to have developed personal feeling between the men. The chances are all in favor of the Oregon member.

IN THE SENATE.

Against Small National Banks—Supt. Porter and Commissioner Groff Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—In the senate the finance committee reported back adversely the bill to provide for the organization of national banks with less capital than $50,000; indefinitely postponed.

Among the bills introduced were the following:

By Chandler—To amend the laws relative to the elective franchise and providing under certain contingencies for the conduct of elections by federal officers, on petition of a certain percentage of the voters that they believe the election will be unfair, if held by state officers, etc.

By Spooner—Making it the duty of the proper officers of the treasury and interior departments to adjust and settle the claims of any state against the United States for all lands disposed of by the United States, hat were included in any grant of swamp or overflowed lands to such state.

By Hawley—For selection from the National Guard and military schools of civilians to be appointed second lieutenants in the regular army.

By Squire—For the erection of public buildings at Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane Falls, Washington, each to not exceed $300,000.

By Spooner—A memorial signed by twenty of his farmer constituents, praying that boards of trade, bucket shops and other mercantile bodies and individuals be prohibited from fixing the value of produce of American farms by sales for future delivery.

By Morrill—A bill to provide for the relief of telegraph operators during the war, who, although not performing strictly military duties, lost their lives or were imprisoned.

The resolution offered yesterday by Turpie, as to trusts, was taken up, and Turpie proceeded to address the senate upon it. He said trusts were the gigantic sin of this age and generation. A trust was a nuisance, open and notorious, but it could not be grappled with and suppressed as other nuisances; and such legislation as was proposed in the bills introduced by Sherman and George, in conjunction with his own proposition, for confiscation of trusts' goods, should be enacted and enforced. At the close of Turpie's speech a bill for the celebration of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America by holding an international exposition in the city of New York, introduced by Evarts, was read a first and second time.

A programme for the ceremonies in the house to-morrow, in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the first inauguration of George Washington as president, was adopted.

The senate then proceeded to executive business, and at 1:45 adjourned till to-morrow.

CONFIRMATIONS.

The senate this afternoon confirmed the following nominations: Robert P. Porter, of New York, superintendent of the census; Lewis A. Groff, of Nebraska, commissioner of the general land office; William M. Stone, of Iowa, assistant commissioner of the general land office; James M. Townsend, of Indiana, recorder of the general land office.

WHEN RELIGION SANCTIONS CRIME.

A Law Against Crime Must Be a Law Against Religion.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Argument was continued in the United States supreme court to-day, in the case of Samuel D. Davis, appellant, against H. G. Benson, sheriff of Oneida county, Idaho territory, involving the constitutionality of the territorial law prohibiting Mormons from voting.

Davis was convicted and sentenced to jail in 1889 on an indictment for conspiracy charging him and other persons with having combined to be unlawfully admitted to registration as voters. Davis's unlawful act consisted in taking oath that he was not a member of any organization practicing the doctrine of plural marriages, when he in fact was a member of the Mormon church. The case comes here on application for a writ of habeas corpus, which has been made on the grounds: First, that the facts in the indictment do not constitute a criminal offense under any law of the territory, as the law prohibiting members of bodies believing in plural marriages from voting is a law respecting an establishment of religion, "in violation of the first amendment to the constitution, and void."

FEMALE DISBURSING AGENTS.

Men Will Run Away, Like Silcott, But Women Cannot Bear Exile.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The committee investigating the affairs of the office of sergeant-at-arms of the house this morning heard a statement from Representative Gear, of Iowa, relative to the forgery of his name to one of the drafts presented at the National Metropolitan bank and subsequently taken up by Silcott. Ex-Representative Taulbee, of Kentucky, who, since his retirement from congress, has used the sergeant-at-arms' office as a banking house, endeavored to convince the committee that his money should be refunded.

At a special meeting of the Woman's National Industrial League of America the Silcott defalcation was considered, and a resolution adopted that all disbursing agents of the government in Washington should be women. Men can, says the resolution, enjoy their ill-gotten money abroad with ease, but no temptation is strong enough to induce an American woman to expatriate herself. Congress is asked to pass a law giving preference to women in such appointments hereafter.

THE CAPE MEARES LIGHT.

After January 1 the Lamps Will Flash Warning Out to Sea.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Notice is given by the lighthouse board that on or about January 1, 1890, a fixed white light of the first order, varied by a red flash every minute, will be shown from the structure recently erected on the extreme westerly end of Cape Meares, Or. The light will illuminate the entire horizon. The focal plane is 223 feet above the mean sea level, and the light may be seen in clear weather from the deck of a vessel fifteen feet above the sea at a distance of twenty-one and a half nautical miles.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

Constitutional Centennial Memorial.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—An adjourned meeting of the governors of the original thirteen states was held here to-day, to take some decisive action looking to the erection in Philadelphia of a suitable memorial structure commemorative of the achievements of the nation during her 100 years of independence and constitutional government. A bill was adopted for presentation to congress.

British Conquest of the Dakotas.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Through the efforts of R. Sykes, the English farmer of Sykeston, N. D., and also a property owner near Sioux Falls, an English loaning company has been organized, with £2,000,000 capital, to loan money in both Dakotas at a low rate of interest. Senator Casey, of North Dakota, and Senator Pettigrew, of South Dakota, are directors in the company.

Mrs. Harrison's Sister Dead.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Scott-Lord, sister of Mrs. Harrison, died this morning at 8:30. Nobody outside of the family in the house where she was stopping was present when Mrs. Lord died. It was known the case was well nigh hopeless, but death was not expected so soon. Mrs. Harrison and Dr. Scott are now at the house with the remains.

Decreasing Government Deposits.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Since the inauguration of Secretary Windom's policy reducing the amount of government deposits in national banks on the 20th instant $4,182,000 in bonds has been surrendered by the banks.

Funeral Train of the Dead Pythian.

LIMA, Ohio, Dec. 10.—A special train bearing the remains of Justus H. Rathbone, founder of the order of Knights of Pythias, with an escort, to Utica, N. Y., left here at midnight. Stops will be made at several points to permit members of the order to view the dead.

Ruined by Their Bookkeeper.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 10.—Thomas L. Saven, bookkeeper for J. E. Dall & Co., drygoods commission merchants, left the city Tuesday and has not since been heard from. Dall declared that Saven had ruined him, that he forged checks and otherwise obtained money belonging to the firm.

THE CITY OF HORRORS.

False Outcry of "Fire" in a Johnstown Theater.

A JAM IN A NARROW STAIRWAY

Thirteen Lives Trampled Out, and Scores of People Injured.

MEN STAMP ON WOMEN AND BABES

The Whole Town Gone Mad—Saloons Heighten the Frenzy—Everybody Knew the House Was a Deathtrap.

JOHNSTOWN, Dec. 11.—Again has this ill-fated town been visited with disaster. This time instead of water it was a cry of fire in a theater that sent nearly a score of lives to eternity and maimed fully seventy-five other persons, several of whom, it is feared, are fatally injured. Parke's opera house, where the catastrophe occurred, is a three-story building, on Main street. The building has for a long time been considered unsafe. There were about 500 persons, principally women and children, in the house last night to witness the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" show.

About 10:30 there was an alarm of fire sounded by a firemen's station on the corner near the opera house, caused by the discovery of a fire in Kernville.

The alarm being sounded so close, greatly excited the audience, and they immediately rushed for the street. They were met at the entrance by a crowd from the outside who thought the fire was in the opera house. The two crowds coming together on a close stairway not over six feet wide. The frantic efforts of those in the rear of the outgoing crowd caused a terrible jam, which was made still worse by persons jumping from the galleries onto the heads of those on the stairs.

Firemen had to turn their hose on those on the outside to ease the jam, and when the injured could be gotten at, the stairway was found to be piled almost to the level of the upper floor with dead and injured.

The screams were terrible, and it was shocking to see small children knocked down by big men and trampled upon.

This theater has always been noted as a death trap, and was condemned twelve years ago, but the other one was washed away in the flood and this one has been in use. The manager tried to quiet the crowd, but it was useless. One man jumped from a third story window and was seriously hurt.

Women and men alike were mad, and there was fighting on the Main street while those inside were being killed. It was over two hours after the jam before the hall was fully cleared and the injured and dead removed.

LIST OF THE DEAD.

The following were taken out dead: Lizzie Claybaugh; Isaac Foler; A. Flishner; John Miller; John Carl; George Stonaker; Charles Friantz; George Horner; Mrs. Nester; Miss Clara Burns; E. Bigler, and two unknown women—13 in all.

SEVENTY-FIVE OTHERS INJURED.

The following persons were seriously injured: Richard Worthington, Mrs. Platt, Mrs. Lester, Albert Owens, John Weimer, Charles Vaughan.

The number of others who were painfully injured will probably reach 75.

Coroner Evans was summoned, and immediately impanelled a jury of six men, who rendered a verdict according with the facts.

To make the sad duties of ministering to the dead and injured more arduous a heavy rain set in shortly after the accident, and has continued since.

The excitement is so great it is almost impossible to gather a clear history of the accident, as every person has his own view of the matter.

Everybody is excited and very few people have gone to bed at 1 o'clock in the morning.

The saloons were open until a late hour and considerable drunkenness was added to the other horrors.

BONUS FOR A SORGHUM MILL.

Swindlers Delude Kansas Farmers Into Issuing Township Bonds.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 10.—The Journal's Topeka, Kansas, special says: A swindle of gigantic proportions has been perpetrated upon farmers of at least two counties in this state, and it is feared may be found to be even more far-reaching. The amount involved aggregates over $150,000.

The American Sugar Company, of Kansas, was chartered about a year ago, and agents built a mill to manufacture sugar from sorghum at Mead Center. When the company proposed that different townships should vote bonds to it for extension of its works, the farmers fell in with the plan readily and bonds to the amount of $90,000 were voted and the script turned over to the company. At Ashland, Clark county, the same plan was pursued, and bonds to the amount of $18,000 voted. It was believed one or two other western counties were also induced to vote bonds.

Two of the employes in the Mead Center mill suspected sharp practice. They investigated and reported to the authorities here that the manager had mixed pure sugar with sorghum syrup in quantities from a small cane product. The residents of two townships in Mead county compelled the manager to destroy the bonds. The bonds of the other townships have been negotiated.

EDGAR SALTUS A FREE LOVER.

His Wife Sues the Novelist for Divorce—Remarkable Chicago Case.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Helen R. Saltus has brought suit for absolute divorce from her husband, Edgar Saltus, the novelist. Two co-respondents are mentioned, and adultery is claimed as the ground for divorce.

EXTRAVAGANT MILLIONAIRE WADDINGHAM.

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—On Saturday last, it is learned, a divorce was granted Mrs. Wilson Waddingham from her husband, the millionaire cattle king, well known throughout the West, and the foundation of whose fortune was a land grant obtained in Mexico. It is said Mrs. Waddingham objected to his extravagant style of living, and when her husband began the erection of a palatial residence in West Haven ten years ago, which has since been completed, at a cost of $865,000, she protested loudly. Six years ago their relations became strained, and it was mutually agreed to separate. Having agreed to a yearly allowance of $25,000 to his wife and $10,000 to each of the children, Waddingham left the family. The wife began a suit for divorce in a Chicago court last summer. The decree carries with it an allowance equal to the previous alimony.

AMERICAN JOCKEY CLUB DYING.

Heavy Losses at Jerome Park Discourage the Members.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The Jerome Park track lost $85,000 last season, and as a result a mortgage of $100,000 has been placed upon it and the land will be put upon the market. The American Jockey Club lives, but without grounds or capital, and its fate is scarcely problematical. Already 169 of 800 members have joined the New York Jockey Club, the successful rival of the West Chester track, and some people prophesy that the rest of the members will follow suit, and the American Jockey Club will cease to exist as such.

The great stakes of the American Jockey Club, aggregating about $50,000, will go to some other club, but it is not decided to which one.

PUGET SOUND CUT-OFF.

Canal Connecting Oak Bay and Port Townsend Bay.

ITS ADVANTAGE TO COMMERCE

Compan– Incorporated to Bridge the Columbia —The Steamer Michigan Saved From the Rocks.

PORT TOWNSEND Dec. 10—The engineers have completed the preliminary survey of the canal to be cut through the narrow spit separating Oak bay from Port Townsend bay, and are now making the new maps. An examination of the formation through which the canal is to be cut has been made and it is now known that there is no rock to be excavated, and that the canal is feasible.

When it is known that the prime movers in the enterprise are the Washington Mill Company of Port Hadlock and the Puget Sound Iron Company of Irondale there can be no doubt that the canal is an assured fact. It will be a public improvement of greatly increasing the commercial facilities of the Sound. The entire distance necessary to be dredged to make a passage sufficient for the navigation of light-draft steamers is only 2000 yards and to make it a ship canal for vessels of any class only 1100 yards.

This will bring the town of Hadlock twenty miles nearer Seattle, and will lessen the distance between Port Townsend and Seattle fully ten miles. Stern wheel steamers could then reach Port Townsend through a safe passage at any season of the year, whereas at present they are forbidden by the inspectors to pass Marrowstone point from October 1 to April 1. The work of excavating will begin soon.

BRIDGE ACROSS THE COLUMBIA.

From a Camas to the Sandy—Sugar Pine Lumber Company.

SALEM Dec. 10—Noah N Tyner H H Northrup, F I Arnold and W B. Gilbert incorporate the Oregon and Washington Bridge Company for the purpose of operating constructing and maintaining a bridge across the Columbia river from La Camas to a point on the westerly shore of the Sandy river, with $300 000 of capital stock.

J C Carson, H B Miller, H C Kinney, J F Kelley and R. A Booth file supplemental articles of incorporation of the Sugar Pine Door and Lumber Company of Grant's Pass, increasing the capital stock to $125 000.

Notaries public appointed: Cecil R. Holcomb, Portland; B J Jones Toledo; C V Whitzingerode, Portland; F A Henderson, Lakeview; Thomas Hunt, commissioner for Oregon 628 Walnut street Philadelphia.

SEATTLE WILL SHIP WHEAT

An Elevator With Capacity of 250,000 Bushels to Be Built.

SEATTLE, Dec 10.—At a meeting of prominent citizens held to-night for the purpose of appointing committees to solicit subscriptions for the new grain elevator, $30,000 was raised among those present, as fast as names were called for subscriptions. The committee will go to work to-morrow raising the balance needed and it is thought twice as much as is needed can be raised in twenty four hours.

Erection of buildings will begin this week and an elevator with a capacity of 250 000 bushels of wheat will be completed by January 1.

NEWS FROM WALLA WALLA.

Decision in a Chinese Murder Case—Last of the Old Fort.

WALLA WALLA Dec 10—Judge Upton to-day granted the motion for arrest of judgment in the cases of the Chinese recently found guilty of murder in the second degree, on the ground that in order to charge murder the indictment must aver a purpose to kill. The charge that death ensued from a mortal wound, purposely inflicted will not suffice. The question of jeopardy cannot be raised by a motion or otherwise than a plea. The question whether the word "mortal" in the indictment is not surplusage is proper at the time to interpose a plea. Jeopardy is when second jeopardy is announced, or when the jury is about to be sworn to try a second time. Defendants were remanded for future trial. The case will be taken to the supreme court. The decision which covered twelve four sheets of legal cap, is regarded as very concise and important.

The 5-year-old daughter of Mr and Mrs Terpening died yesterday at Prescott of malignant diphtheria. In the afternoon the girl believing she would die had her playmates called to bid them good bye. Not knowing it was diphtheria all were admitted. Dr Keyler, of this city, was summoned and pronounced it the dread disease. There is now great anxiety, people there fearing a spread.

There are now 170 convicts in the penitentiary, among them Battin, convicted of killing Grant at Tacoma. He appears insane and is kept in a straight jacket to prevent his doing injury to himself. It is thought his insanity is feigned.

An enthusiastic citizens' meeting last night resolved that the building of a new hotel was a most important factor in the city's development. Fifty new names were added to the Board of Trade's list of members.

One hundred and fifty dollars was raised to erect a monument at Grangeville Idaho to William Foster, who lost his life in the Indian war of 1877 while attempting to rescue a comrade from the enemy.

Robbin Indian agent at Lapwai agency has resigned.

The last of old Fort Walla Walla, consisting of two quadrangular cabins formerly used for the commandant's quarters in the old times, and situated on the east side of Main street, near the Hunt depot were taken down and hauled away this afternoon. They were erected in 1859 and have been occupied by some of the foremost military men of the age.

G W Hunt will return from the East at the end of the week.

F H. Rogers, who came here December 1 from Boise Basin, is missing. His wife is here anxiously looking for him.

SALLIE SAILED SATURDAY.

But the Telegram Said She Died—Suit Against the Western Union.

SEATTLE Dec. 10—Suit was brought to-day in the superior court of King county by T R Tobin, a contractor of this city against the Western Union Telegraph Company for $5428 25 damages. The suit is of a most novel nature and the allegations set forth in the complaint are in substance as follows:

On June 22 1889, Miss A Crowley, of San Francisco presented at the agent of the Western Union office, which it is stated read as follows:

To T R Tobin 17 7 Tacoma Avenue: Sallie sailed Saturday morning. MISS A. CROWLEY

Sallie," the plaintiff asserts is his wife, and on account of carelessness of the defendant company, the message was not delivered as written but as follows:

To T R. Tobin 17 7 Tacoma Avenue Sallie died Saturday morning, June 22. MISS A CROWLEY.

At the time of receipt of the message plaintiff alleges that he was building two houses, and that in consequence of the shocking news he was rendered unfit for business and had to employ a man to superintend the work at $6 per day and finally had to give up the contract altogether to make the necessary preparation for the burial of his wife. Several days later, however, the complaint sets forth the information was imparted to plaintiff that his wife had sailed for Tacoma, as stated in the dispatch, but in consequence of the great mental anguish, together with preparations made for the burial and money lost on account of having to throw up the contracts judgment is asked in the amount stated.

SPECIAL ELECTION IN TACOMA.

Elwood Evans Chosen Representative, Despite the Anti-Chinese Votes.

TACOMA Dec. 10.—None but the applicants for marriage licenses and strong drinks realized that it has been election day. The office of the county auditor and the saloons are the only institutions which have observed the usual solemnities. Both in this city and throughout the county the vote was light being about a sixth of that polled at the preceding general election. In the city Elwood Evans received 687 votes and his independent opponent, Dolph Hannah, 516 making a total vote of 1206. It is expected that Evans is elected to the legislature by about 200 majority. Many of the county precincts remain to be heard from.

The democrats generally took no interest in the election, and but few of them voted. The laboring classes base their opposition to Evans on account of his pro-Chinese record he having been attorney for the Chinese at the time of the expulsion and assisted in securing the indictments of a number of persons instrumental in the famous action.

A PHYSICIAN'S SUIT.

Forest Grove Refuses to Pay $500 for Attendance on a Smallpox Patient.

FOREST GROVE Or Dec. 10—A very interesting lawsuit, in which Dr D W Ward is plaintiff and the town of Forest Grove is defendant is now in progress at Hillsboro, in the circuit court now in session. Dr Ward was the physician who attended the smallpox patients last winter, and his suit against the city is for $500 for professional services. The city claims that they never authorized the doctor to attend the cases and therefore they refuse to pay the bill. The case will be decided this week.

PETER OLSEN AT LAST.

The Noted Murderer Caught at Garfield, Whitman County by a Detective.

SPOKANE FALLS, Dec. 10.—At Garfield Whitman county, Sunday evening a California detective arrested a man supposed to be Peter Olsen, the noted murderer, whose capture has been reported repeatedly, always with the same result, mistaken identity. The detective is sure he has the only original Peter Olsen this time. He has been in the neighborhood for more than a month working up the case, and claims to have made the arrest only after convincing himself beyond all doubt. He will leave for California with his prisoner as soon as extradition papers can be got.

SCALDED BY HIS ENGINE.

Harrowing Train Accident in California Caused by Rain.

SAN FRANCISCO Dec. 10—The body of William G Phillips a young engineer employed on the Salmon Creek railroad a short line running from Whitesboro Mendocino county, to logging camps arrived here to-day on a steamer. Yesterday morning Phillips started out with a train on which were eight section hands. The engine was wrecked by a washout and Phillips was caught in the debris and scalded to death. James Forrester, the fireman was also severely scalded but will recover. A section hand known as Victor was thrown from the train by the shock and instantly killed.

Further investigation shows that when the train pulled out of Whitesboro at 6 o clock yesterday morning, it was dark and stormy. Rain was coming down in torrents and it was impossible for the engineer or fireman to see twenty yards ahead of the locomotive. After a run of about fifteen minutes the train hands who were in the rear cars were startled by a sudden shock and the train coming to a standstill. They at once ran ahead and were horrified to find the engine was ditched and the engineer and fireman were being slowly scalded to death by steam which was escaping from the boiler.

The heavy rains had washed out a large section of track and the engine had pitched headlong into a pit about four feet deep. The train men were at once set to work to rescue the imprisoned engineer and fireman. James Forrester, the fireman was the first one rescued, but not until he was so badly scalded about the head and body that there is little hope of his recovery. William G Phillips the engineer was pinned down by the wreck, and when an hour later, the trainmen managed to free his body, it was found that he was dead. He fell in such a position when the engine was dumped into the pit that the steam and water from the boiler rushed out over him.

When the news of the accident reached Whitesboro a relief train was dispatched to the scene of the disaster. Forrester received all the attention possible under the circumstances and the body of the dead engineer was placed in a caboose.

As the train was about to start back for Whitesboro it was discovered that a section hand named Victor was missing. When he was last seen he was riding on the hind platform of the rear car, and search was instituted for him. Believing he might have been thrown from the platform of the rear car by the shock when the engine was ditched, the crew started back on the track. A few minutes later they came across his body, cold in death. His remains were lying alongside the track with a wound on the side of the head from which brain matter was oozing. His body was placed beside that of Phillips's and the relief train ran back to Whitesboro, where Forrester was placed under the care of a surgeon. The remains of Victor, who was a Finn, were turned over to the coroner for burial as it is not known where his relatives live. When the train reached Whitesboro a steamer was about to leave for this city and the body of Phillips was given in charge of the captain to bring here. His mother Mrs J E. Johnson, lives here and the body will be turned over to her for burial. Deceased was about 26 years of age and was unmarried.

CLIMAX OF THE STORM

Furious Rain and Snow in Northern California—Trains Delayed.

RED BLUFF, Cal Dec 10—The heaviest storm of the season prevailed to-day. A windstorm in the forenoon was followed by a heavy rain that ran through the streets like a cloud burst. Above the town the river rose two feet in two and one-half hours and is now at the 23 foot embankment. Both ends of the Reed creek bridge were cut through leaving the bridge standing in the middle of the stream on the piers.

SISSON Cal Dec 10.—The storm which has been raging every day for the last two weeks turned to snow this morning. It is snowing hard to-night, with prospects of a big storm. There was a land slide between Dunsmuir and Mott delaying the train for Portland about four hours.

SAN FRANCISCO Dec 10—Quite a number of vessels ready for sea are in port detained by heavy weather, and when the wind once shifts to the north there will be a general movement seaward.

THE "INTER-OCEAN" SWINDLER.

SACRAMENTO Dec 10—A L Waterhouse who is under arrest in Portland for attempting to pass fraudulent checks on the 28th of November registered at the Golden Eagle hotel and represented himself as correspondent of the Inter Ocean and New York Herald. He presented checks on the First National bank of San Francisco, and on Clark Gray, of the hotel refusing to cash them, Waterhouse became very indignant and considered he had been insulted. Subsequently he told Gray that he had telegraphed the bank to have the checks cashed and that when he received an answer he would make Gray apologize.

I will give you until this evening to pay your three days' board bill" said Gray to him. When evening came Waterhouse was gone. His baggage is still at the hotel.

TOLD HER BOY TO FINISH HIM.

Murderous Rage of a Stockton Woman—Her Landlord Fatally Shot.

STOCKTON Dec. 10—Mrs. Emma Palsky, who has a milk ranch just outside the city, and her son Allie, aged 15 this morning fatally shot Robert Kennedy, from whom the premises were leased. Kennedy has made a statement that he had an altercation with Mrs Palsky, when the latter drew a revolver and began shooting. He threw a pitchfork at her but missed her. Her first shot took effect in the groin, passing into the intestines. When she had emptied the revolver she gave it to her son telling him to reload it and shoot Kennedy. Kennedy walked to his own house, no far away, and was followed by the boy who shot him in the ear. The man cannot recover. Both mother and son are under arrest. Mrs. Palsky says Kennedy first attacked her with a pitchfork, when she drew the revolver in self defense and it went off accidentally.

PREST. HARRISON HAS RESIGNED

Jim Corbett, Secretary of War of the Olympic Club, Also Goes.

SAN FRANCISCO Dec. 10—Jas Corbett instructor of boxing at the Olympic club has resigned his position and announces that in the future he will devote himself to giving private lessons. Corbett's action was mainly brought about by the fact that President Harrison, his friend in the board of directors, had resigned, and he was not on very friendly terms with many members of the board.

Corbett states that he intends going to Portland soon, where he expects to make a match with Dave Campbell.

CALIFORNIA NEWS ITEMS.

A Cruiser to Be Silver-Plated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10.—Seven thousand dollars have already been raised for the purpose of purchasing a silver service for the new cruiser San Francisco now being constructed at the Union Iron Works. The committee having in charge the matter of raising funds adopted designs for the service yesterday and awarded the contract for its manufacture to George C Shreve & Co., of this city. As subscriptions are still pouring in, and the proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of more plate indications are that the service of the cruiser San Francisco will be very elaborate.

The Corning Homicide.

RED BLUFF, Dec. 10.—The bodies of Cy Nebusky and Mrs Smith were visited by hundreds of people at the morgue to-day. It will be remembered that last Sunday morning at Corning, Nebusky murdered Mrs Smith and then committed suicide. Nebusky has two brothers in Oregon, well-to-do and highly respected. The bodies are awaiting orders from relatives before burial.

TO BURY JEFF DAVIS

Hosts of the South Pouring Into New Orleans.

THE CHILDREN BRING FLOWERS

Through Solid Walls of Black the Long Cortege of the Funeral Will Move—The Last Rites For a Soldier.

NEW ORLEANS Dec 10—Owing to the fact that it was virtually the last day upon which Mr Davis's remains could be viewed people crowded to the city hall. The march by the bier was rapid and orderly and fully 70 000 people trod the corridors of the hall during the day. General Early Governor Lubbock of Texas Bishop Wilmer of Alabama General Young ex-minister to Russia ex Governor Mumford of Virginia and George Jones of Iowa, were among the distinguished visitors.

The school children not only decorated the schools but came to show their respect to the dead. The city is decorated on a grander scale than ever before in its history. The funeral to-morrow will virtually pass through solid walls of black, for there is scarcely a house that is not draped. Pictures and paintings of the deceased are everywhere displayed. The American flag is at half mast over the city hall and other prominent buildings.

A few Confederate flags are shown. One is across the coffin.

Among the most magnificent floral offerings is a ten foot cross with a wreath of smilax and camellias in the center of which nestles a dove holding streamers of ribbons, upon which appears the inscription; "Sympathy and love of the Confederate Association of Missouri." The base is of wheat and ferns upon which two doves seem to have alighted and caught the ends of the streamers. This is one offering of many.

There will be seven governors of Southern states here to-morrow, besides ex Governor McEnery of this state and others. Business will be entirely suspended and almost every society in the city will turn out. Dispatches from all points indicate that memorial services will be held to-morrow in almost every city, town and village in Mississippi and Louisiana and very generally throughout the South.

A SOLDIER'S BURIAL.

The funeral will be the largest ever seen in the South. Every benevolent organization in the city military schools athletic clubs commercial bodies shipmasters, fire department and clergy will be largely represented. The route will be about four miles long.

The funeral ceremonies will be conducted in front of the city hall by Bishops Gallagher of Louisiana Wilmer, of Alabama, and the clergymen of various denominations. At the grave he ceremonies will be conducted by Bishops Gallagher and Hugh Miller Thompson of Mississippi. Minute guns will be fired all day, and at the grave there will be guns and bugle calls as becomes a military funeral.

Visiting military organizations will come from Mississippi Alabama, Texas and from the country parishes of Louisiana.

MESSAGES TO MRS DAVIS.

RICHMOND, Va Dec 10.—The legislature to-day passed a joint resolution requesting Mrs Jefferson Davis to allow the remains of her husband to be interred in this city.

DENVER Dec 10—An ex Confederate soldiers' meeting was held here to-day for the purpose of taking action deemed appropriate on the death of Jefferson Davis. Resolutions of condolence were adopted, which were wired to Mrs. Davis at New Orleans.

CRONIN TRIAL ONLY BEGUN.

Long Arguments Yet to Come and Indefinite Adjournments.

CHICAGO Dec 10.—Forrest resumed his address to the Cronin jury this morning. He claimed that the stains and paint on the parlor floor of the Carlson cottage might have been put there by a reporter to get up a sensation just as was done with the bloody cottonbatting found in the basement.

Forrest made an exhaustive analysis of the testimony of some of the prominent witnesses for the prosecution, reaching the conclusion that the Cronin faction of the Clan na Gael drilled witnesses to give false testimony and that all of the new evidence brought out since the sitting of the coroner's jury had been manufactured to strengthen weak spots in the case of the state. Regarding the matter of the knives found on Coughlin, Forrest declared that Conklin had committed perjury in stating they belonged to Cronin.

Forrest will probably conclude to-morrow and court will adjourn over Thursday, which is election day. Luther Laflin Mills, who is to make the losing speech for the state, has been quite ill and if not able to begin Friday, a further adjournment may be necessary.

OLIVER JOHNSON IS DEAD.

The Last of the Abolitionists Follows Jeff Davis.

BROOKLYN Dec 10—Oliver Johnson the veteran editor and abolitionist, died this afternoon at his home in this city.

With Johnson's death there departs from this world almost the last figure of what was the greatest movement for the emancipation of mankind. With the aid of William Lloyd Garrison he organized the New England Anti Slavery Society in 1822. This society led to the foundation of the American Anti Slavery Society, with its affiliated auxiliaries, causing the public agitation which ceased only with the abolition of slavery.

He was mobbed once in Pennsylvania for lecturing on slavery, and narrowly escaped being tarred and feathered. Mr Johnson had been connected with various prominent papers in New York besides publishing papers at different points in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and other states in which he advocated abolition.

THE FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Opening of the Annual Convention in Boston, With Large Attendance.

BOSTON, Dec 10—A large number of delegates were present at the opening of the convention of the American Federation of Labor to-day. President Samuel Gompers presided. Governor Ames welcomed the delegates to the state. The mayor made a brief address, welcoming the delegates to Boston. An address by President Gompers upon the benefits of organized labor followed, after which a committee on credentials was appointed.

After recess the credentials of fifty one delegates were announced and adjournment taken.

AN ARTIFICIAL EARTHQUAKE.

Two Pennsylvania Teamsters Blown to Small Pieces by Nitro Glycerine.

BUTLER Pa Dec. 10—This morning Butler was shaken by a nitro-glycerine explosion at the Butler Torpedo Company's magazine two miles south of town. Cans were being put into wagons at the factory. James A Woods and William Medill and their wagon and team were blown into unrecognizable fragments.

The woods in the vicinity are being searched by hundreds for the remains of the men. The larger part of the factory building was demolished. It is supposed one of the men dropped a can of glycerine.

ABILENE BANK SUSPENDS.

Embarrassment Caused by a Run—Coal Firm Bankrupts.

ABILENE, Kan, Dec 10—The First National Bank of this city has suspended business. Since the failure of the bank of Lebold, Fisher & Co., confidence in either banks has been somewhat shaken. Many eastern depositors withdrew deposits from the First National and yesterday the draft became so exceedingly heavy that enough cash could not be secured to transact to-day's business. The liabilities are placed at $115,000, and the resources at $150 000.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10—The junior member of Ahpors & Swartout, coal dealers states that he thinks the firm will fail Thursday. The liabilities are estimated at $200,000.

Suit Against the Great Northern.

ST PAUL Dec 10—It was stated to-day that application had been made or would be made in a few days to the attorney general for quo warranto proceedings against the Great Northern Railway Company. By whom the application was made could not be ascertained, but the name of [illegible] is mentioned in connection with the rumor. Hollins a few weeks ago asked for, and was refused an injunction restraining the Manitoba from transferring its property to the Great Northern. The object of this action in Minnesota is said to be to prevent this transfer. The application is similar to that made by J C Hill jr against the Eastern Minnesota on behalf of the Northern Pacific. The two however have no connection whatever. The charter under which the Great Northern will acquire property is an old one and similar to that under which the Eastern Minnesota exists.

Cherokees Want $3 an Acre.

KANSAS CITY, Dec 10—A special to the Journal from Tahlequah, Ind T, says: The commission appointed to confer with the United States Indian commission sent a communication to the latter to-day informing them that they were ready to treat with the government for the sale of the Cherokee outlet. The Indians requested the conference to be held under the first section of the act under which the government commission was appointed and which empowers them to buy the outlet at a figure not higher than $3 per acre. If the commission did see fit to negotiate on that basis the communication said the Indians requested the commission to inform congress that the land could be had at $3 per acre.

Oregon Short Line Bonds.

NEW YORK Dec 10—The first mortgage lien, and also the second mortgage lien, on the 1313 miles of the Oregon Short Line and Utah & Northern track will receive prompt payment of interest on the first days of April and October of each year guaranteed by the Union Pacific. It is not expected that the Union Pacific will be called upon to make advances for payment of interest, inasmuch as the net earnings of the Oregon Short Line and Utah & Northern are much more than sufficient to pay the taxes and interest on all bonds outstanding.

FRIENDS LOSING HOPE.

No Tidings of the Lost Seattle Hunters Received.

THEIR GRAVE IN PUGET SOUND

The Steamers Cruising Off Whidby Island, Scouring the Shore for a Trace of the Missing Party.

SEATTLE, Dec 10—Nothing has yet been heard of the three missing hunters Dr Minor G Morris Haller and Louis Cox and the fears of their families and friends have at last grown into conviction that some misfortune and perhaps death, has befallen them. The steamer Detroit left here to-day with a search party on board. The cutter Wolcott left Port Townsend and the steamer Daisy from Utsalady. These steamers will cruise along the east shore of Whidby island and make careful search for the missing gentlemen.

The affair has created intense excitement in Seattle, and the telegraph and newspaper offices are besieged with friends and relatives of the missing ones for news from the searching parties. No word has yet been received, and every moment of delay adds to the excitement.

There are grounds of serious apprehension for the safety of the party. It was learned to-day that the party left Stanwood Monday afternoon a week ago, ostensibly for Brann's point, and that they never reached there. The question now narrows down to the point whether the party were drowned or changed their minds and went some place else beyond reach of mail and telegraph. This question the searching parties will soon settle.

PORT TOWNSEND Dec 10.—Nothing has been heard here of the missing Seattle hunting party. E N Haller of this city, brother of G Morris Haller, went with the cutter Wolcott this morning to search for the party. Mr Haller is greatly alarmed about his brother's safety.

J M McQuaid, appellant, vs Portland & Vancouver Railway Company respondent, appeal from Multnomah, judgment reversed and cause remanded to the court below for a new trial opinion by Thayer C J Strahan, J concurs, and Lord thinks the case ought to be reversed but not for the purpose or reasons stated in the opinion.

Raising Railroad Money in Salem.

SALEM Dec. 10—The committee of twenty six representative Salem men appointed at the railroad meeting to solicit stock for the Salem, Astoria & Eastern begin work in the morning. The stock books are open and indications for the raising of the required $200 000 of stock are good. All the capitalists, business men and land owners interviewed on the subject by your correspondent favor the scheme and think the stock will be raised in a short time.

AFFLICTED FIFTY YEARS,

And Restored to Health by Electricity, Through Dr. Darrin's Peculiar Mode of Treatment.

Mr Editor: During the past two years I have been reading in THE OREGONIAN of the wonderful cures performed by Drs Darrin with their Electro Magnetic Treatment. I became very much interested in them, as I had been sorely afflicted at intervals during the past fifty years, with neuralgia of the stomach, liver and kidney complaint and nervous dyspepsia, and at times so depressed that it was almost unbearable and bordering on insanity. During all these years I have consulted many physicians and taken their prescriptions, but none that seemed to do me any good, and last spring having a bilious attack which aggravated my old troubles, I began to run down and lose vitality, I resolved to try Drs Darrin's system of treatment. I applied to them and after a thorough examination, said they could make a well, but not a young man of me, with a six month's course of treatment which I accepted. I commenced to improve immediately, and now acknowledge their success in fulfilling their contract, and will say that for the past two months I have enjoyed perfect health, and sincerely wish to render my gratitude to the Giver of all good and to His agents who have cured me of my afflictions by their peculiar treatment and willingly recommend all who are afflicted to call on the doctors and be healed and give them a thorough trial before crying humbug. I am a homesteader, and can be referred to at Woods, Tillamook county, Oregon.
E B CHAMBERLAIN.

The above remarkable cure is another proof of Dr Darrin's wonderful power over disease. Mr Chamberlain is a man well known throughout the county and state, and one whose word can be relied on. The application of electricity to nearly all forms of disease is certainly revolutionizing the practice of medicine. We can with all candor recommend Dr. Darrin to the afflicted.

Drs. Darrin's New Place of Business.

Drs Darrin can be consulted free at the Washington building, corner of Washington and Fourth streets, Portland. Rooms 16, 17, 22 and 23, second floor. Ask the elevator boy for room 13. Office hours, from 10 to 4 o'clock daily, evenings, 7 to 8, Sundays, 10 to 12. All curable chronic diseases, loss of manhood, blood taints, syphilis, gleet, gonorrhœa stricture, spermatorrhœa, seminal weakness, or loss of desire of sexual power, in man or woman catarrh and deafness, are confidentially and successfully treated. Cures of private diseases guaranteed, and never published in the papers. Most cases can receive home treatment after a visit to the doctors office. Inquiries answered and circulars sent free. Parties writing will please mention paper.)

LADY OF THE HOUSE—Do you still like our Charter Oak Stove as well as when we first got it, Mary?

SERVANT—Oh every bit as well, Ma'am

LADY OF THE HOUSE—I am expecting a friend to take dinner with us next week on purpose to show her how nice our stove cooks everything and I want you to have a nice dinner for us.

SERVANT—Indeed I will, Ma'am. There's no trouble to cook nice with that stove. The Wire Gauze Oven Doors makes it so much easier than other stoves I have been used to, and I have so much more time to make everything just right. Just look at that roll! I never have bad luck with bread, biscuits or cake, now

LADY OF THE HOUSE—Why how do you explain it?

SERVANT—Well, I don't have to watch everything so close for fear it will burn You know how careful you have to be with a baked custard, it is so apt to burn on top before it is baked through The Charter Oak bakes it perfectly without any danger of burning And then in roasting a turkey, I don't have to keep basting it every five minutes It roasts beautifully brown without it and without drying it up like the tight ovens do And you know how crisp the biscuits are without being hard and tough You always praised my biscuits but if it wasn't for the wire gauze oven door I know they wouldn't be near as nice I hope I'll never have to cook anywhere again where they haven't got a Charter Oak Stove or Range.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND. WEDNESDAY. DEC. 11.

Idaho people pleased to think the president did not mention her aspirations for statehood in his message.

Dayton, Washington, has closed a contract for 00 incandescent lights, and will be supplied with an electric light plant with an eight horse power engine.

The Southern Pacific has 1400 tons of steel rails en route to Astoria from Atlantic ports. These will replace the remaining twenty five miles of iron between Portland and Ashland.

Last year the Horse Company had in less than fifteen acres in tobacco but the business has been so successful that they are now preparing fifty acres to be devoted to this object.

Mr. Alec Heath, of Ilwaco, although the grandfather of a numerous brood shoulders his spade and goes to his farm daily to turn some of his marsh land up to the sun. The Pacific Journal supplements the above as follows: "Young man, let the saloon porch brace itself awhile and do thou likewise."

The Tacoma Globe pays the following tribute to a well known pioneer of Washington: Hon. Elwood Evans is one of the most popular men in the state. He is a pioneer who has been tried and who was never found wanting. He wasn't even found wanting this office but was persuaded to take the candidacy, and he should have a full vote.

This mournful note is found in our usually light hearted contemporary the Walla Walla Journal: "We found this about the hardest time to collect outstanding little accounts, we ever saw. Wonder whether our contemporaries fared the same way? We would rather people who will not pay cheerfully when their bill is presented, would never patronize us at all."

There's joy in Yakima valley. The Herald says: The hills are covered with snow and the valleys soaked with rain. Already the Yakima country has received more moisture than during the whole of last winter. The farmers are jubilant and putting in every moment at the plow much new ground being broken. The coming year promises much prosperity for Yakima.

Three tramps confined in the city jail at Albany, made an unsuccessful attempt to escape Sunday evening. They cut a hole in the door near the lock, but were unable to get the door open. They were not up with the times says the Herald, or they would have kicked the gable end out of the shanty and crawled out as several have done before. It might be added that Albany needs a new city jail.

Tacoma has an extra lot of jail cells on its hands. Some time ago the county commissioners gave a contract to Moler, Bukman & Co of Cincinnati, for extra cells for the jail. They were to be delivered at Tacoma in a certain time but they did not arrive and a duplicate order was given the Pauly jail works of St. Louis. The cells ordered from the Cincinnati house have at last turned up and the city will likely have a surplus of jail cells and a law suit.

The Walla Walla Statesman says: "The telegraph correspondent of THE OREGONIAN at this place assumes altogether too much, in asserting through that paper that the people of Walla Walla demand an investigation of the charges against the insane asylum. Of course every one would like to have the charges investigated, but so far no one here has bothered himself about the matter for the reason that they took no stock in it and look upon the whole matter as a scheme, on the part of certain ones here, to obtain the superintendency."

SECRETARY STEEL RESIGNS

His Successor Temporarily Appointed by the Directors of the C. B. of C.

At a meeting of the directors of the city board of charities, held Monday evening the resignation of Secretary W. Steel was accepted and Mr. Clyde Chamberlain who has been acting as Mr. Steel's assistant was temporarily installed as his successor. There is no doubt but Mr. Chamberlain will be permanently appointed after the first of the year as he is a young man of ability and well acquainted with the duties of the office.

The application of the women physicians of Portland for a room in which to treat ... of charge women afflicted with ... peculiar to their sex, and ... to employ regular physicians was discussed and favorably commented upon, but no action was taken. The board recognized the need of such an adjunct and appreciate the efforts of the physicians, who are willing to tender their services gratis for the benefit of their suffering sisters. The proposition will be formally acted upon at the first annual meeting in January. The annual meeting of the board of directors will be held on the second Tuesday in January and the annual meeting of the members immediately after.

WHAT WILL BE DONE WITH GARBAGE?

That Is the Leading Conundrum Which Agitates the Community

The momentous and oft recurring question "What shall we do with our garbage?" now comes up again, and seems likely to become as great a nuisance as the garbage itself. The crematory of Burfeind is said to be a failure and no one appears to know what to do with the garbage, any more than they did a year ago or two years ago. During the summer when the roads are good, the scavengers manage to get the garbage out of sight somehow, somewhere but when the weather is unpleasant and the roads bad, they appear to dump their carts anywhere when no one is looking, and the howl that comes up from a long-suffering public is as loud as the odor of the garbage. Some say, have the garbage hauled off by the Northern Pacific and dumped in some sequestered spot far, far away. Some say, put it in a scow and send it down the river to some bayou. The city has a tugboat now, and if it had a scow and a bayou the business might be settled but any attempt to dump garbage in the Columbia or in the country will probably be promptly objected to. The council can wrestle with the garbage question once more, and perhaps, cut down with a time.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

The Wide West will be inspected in a few days.

The O. & C. ferry boat will be inspected Sunday.

Gustav Ganty and Kate Krause have taken out a license to wed.

The speed association will hold an adjourned meeting to-morrow night.

Justice B. B. Tuttle goes to Hillsboro to-day to give testimony in a criminal case. He will therefore, hold no court this morning.

The case for the inspection of the collision between the State of California and the tug boat Fannie has been changed to the 17th inst.

The county court has admitted to citizenship George Levefacoot ... a native of the island of Crete and a subject of the sultan of Turkey.

B. S. Pague, of the state weather bureau goes to Forest Grove to-morrow to put in a complete meteorological outfit at the college there. It will then become a part of the state weather service.

The county court was in session a large portion of the day yesterday and audited a large number of bills, chief among them being the sheriff's account of $254 expended in efforts to capture the jail breakers who escaped recently.

Articles incorporating the Pacific Puget Sound and Eastern Land Townsite and Immigration Company were filed in the county clerk's office yesterday by Thomas B. Somers, S. G. Egbert and H. G. Styles, with a capital of $50,000.

J. Will Paine an employe of Allen & Lewis wholesale grocery store, fell down an elevator shaft yesterday morning and sustained serious injuries about the head and shoulder. He was removed to the Good Samaritan hospital where Dr. Parton is attending him.

The pavilion management deny that they only offered Dave Campbell twenty five per cent of the gate receipts on condition that he stays for points with Corbett or Smith. They will give him a fifty per cent, and if he wins the entire gate receipts, minus the expenses of rent light etc.

Smith, the champ on Australia, ... in the city yesterday. Corbett, the instructor of the San Francisco Olympic club will arrive on the 10 ... train this morning. Either man will spar any comer in any number of rounds for points, Dave Campbell preferred. A $100 forfeit is offered.

Addition to Fairhaven Washington, offers the finest opportunity for investors. This attractive suburb is less than one mile from the growing city of Fairhaven and one and a half miles from Bellingham Bay overlooking the city, the bay and Happy Valley, through which runs the main line of the Fairhaven & Southern Railroad. The plat of this addition conforms with the plat of the city, all streets being 80 feet wide and avenues 80 and 100 feet wide, alleys 20 feet wide. Donovan avenue 80 feet wide, will be at once improved from Fairhaven to East Fairhaven and planked across Happy Valley, thus making a splendid thoroughfare.

FAIRHAVEN

Is destined to become one of the chief commercial and manufacturing centers of the grand new State of Washington. It has the finest harbor on the coast, nearer the sea than Seattle and Tacoma. It is surrounded by a large area of fine agricultural lands. It has mines of iron and coal, vast quarries of unexcelled building stone, forests of timber, and lime in abundance. It is the terminus of the

Fairhaven & Southern R. R.,

Now building north and south to a connection with the Canadian Pacific and Northern Pacific Railroads, making Fairhaven virtually the terminus of two great transcontinental railways. Here will be the machine shops, docks, grain elevators, etc., of a great railway system. Buy while here is an opportunity to get in on the ground floor.

Lots $125 to $175 each. Terms, one third cash.

DESPISED $20 LOTS.

Fifteen years ago I bought some lots over the Sand Hills back of San Francisco, near what is now Golden Gate Park for $20 each.

I was laughed at as a lunatic, and advised to buy over the bay at Oakland at $1000 per lot.

Time has revealed the fact that the $20 lots away over the hills were even then, in fact worth much more than the Oakland lots.

The Oakland lots have doubled in value. The others ... 4 and 6 miles out and back from the foot of Market street now sell for from $3000 to $10,000 per lot.

I learn a lesson from this namely: Always buy on the business side of the river or bay and on the highest ground reached by motor line. It may take time to develop but soon as made accessible by a cable or motor line, values will bound up to fabulous prices.

West Portland ... on the right side of the river—100 ... line. Lots are 50x100 ... and sell them ... $10 down, and $10 per month. Prices ... to $150 after January 1. ... 3 months and ... $30 ... 2 years these lots will be worth $500 to $3000 each.

THE LATEST OUT.

A daily through car service has been established by the Chicago, Union Pacific & Northwestern line between Portland and Chicago via Council Bluffs, thus offering to the public facilities not given by any other line. "The Limited Fast Mail," which runs daily between the above points, carries the Overland Fast Mail, a limited number of first-class passengers without extra charge, and is composed of Pullman vestibuled sleepers and Pullman dining-cars, Portland to Chicago via Council Bluffs.

This is another indication that the Union Pacific is desirous of meeting the requirements of the people. For information in regard to this and other trains on this line, apply to George S. Taylor, City ticket agent, corner First and Oak streets.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S EXCURSION RATE.

The Northern Pacific Railroad Company place in effect to be used only on December 24, December 25, December 31 and January 1 an excursion rate of one and one-fifth fare for the round trip between all local points west of Spokane Falls, inclusive, restricting destination of ticket to a distance of 200 miles or less from point at which ticket is sold.

The object of this rate is to accommodate the many people who would perhaps like to take a short trip during the holidays, but see no special reason for so doing unless some inducement is offered in the way of railroad fare.

Tickets will be sold only on dates above stated, and will be limited to January 3 for the return trip.

BRIEF MENTION.

BUSINESS NEVER BETTER.

Merchants Pronounce This the Best Year in the City's History.

The Machinery, Agricultural and All the Wholesale Houses Rushed to Meet the Demand From the Interior for Goods.

"Portland has had a big year," said one of the leading Front street merchants to an OREGONIAN reporter yesterday. This is, practically, the universal expression of the entire business community of Portland, and every dealer in the city is already making every preparation for a big season's business next year. THE OREGONIAN, in the coming New Year's issue, will be able to make a showing for the trade of Portland that will be simply beyond compare with the statistics on this subject so carefully compiled on previous years. Yesterday afternoon the attention of a reporter was called to the significant showing which the firm of Russell & Co., one of the leading machinery dealers of the coast, have been able to make for the year now so near a close. This is but taken as a criterion for forming something of an estimate of the business which the other large houses in the same line have done during 1889. Mr. Hughes, the manager of the company's interests in this city, was particularly enthusiastic yesterday on the subject of Portland's future as a business center. "You can say what you please about the declining power of Portland as a great business center; I'll just tell you that Portland has not gone back any during the last two or three years, and during our lifetime, at least, there will not be any city that will be able to displace our position as the commercial metropolis of the Northwest." Mr. Hughes said this with his usual degree of warmth, which he always shows on any subject in which he has taken an intense interest and coming from a gentleman of his business standing in the community it is entitled to considerable weight. It was learned further from Mr. Hughes that the firm's business for 1889 is fully sixty per cent. greater than what the books showed for the preceding year, and he says the only trouble he has experienced ever since the early fall trade opened, has been to get in goods fast enough to supply the call of their customers. The enthusiasm and confidence which the business community of Portland at the present time show in the certain future of this city presages more than the ordinary growth during the coming season, and the winding up of the year 1890 will doubtless chronicle the most rapid single season's progress in the history of this great trade center.

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 11.

PORTLAND'S BOARD OF TRADE.

This body has rendered the city of Portland and the whole Northwest very valuable service during several years past. It originated the plan that found fruition in the popular subscription which enabled the board of immigration to spend $33 000 last year, and $47,000 this year, in spreading abroad information about Oregon and the Northwest, and to which is due large part of our increased activity and prosperity. It was a Board of Trade committee that spent an entire year on the subscription and stock scheme for a hotel worthy the city of Portland, and did not stop until the object had been attained. Largely to the efforts of the Board of Trade have been due the success of such undertakings as the railroad bridge, the combination that gives us a continuous railway line through the Union Pacific to Chicago, the defeat of the joint lease, the deliverance from the incubus of the Transcontinental corporation, the connection through the O. R. & N with the country north of Snake river, and construction of the road to the Cœur d'Alene mines and Spokane Falls. In all these and many other things our Board of Trade has rendered great service. To it also are due the pilot act and the seamen's bill by which our commerce have been relieved of heavy burdens, and it has assisted greatly in pushing the work on the river channels. Perhaps in some directions it might have done more, but what has been said will suffice to show that our Board of Trade has been "no dead head in the enterprise."

With growing activity in all directions and demand for larger things the energy of our board is to be redoubled and its efficiency increased. In order to bring this about it will be necessary to make an appeal to the business community of the city.

It is necessary to enlarge the basis of membership and every man of business and property ought to come into it. To this end a systematic canvass of the city is to be made. The dues are but $18 a year, with no other fees, and the aggregation of these small sums, added to the liberality of leading citizens whose donations for important objects in the work of the board are never stinted, will yield enough to enable the board to do a great deal for the city and for the country at large. A man entirely fit for the work is to have charge of the rooms of the board and devote his whole time to the business. It is the intention to make the board a more important auxiliary of the business of the city than ever before.

As a means of uniting and organizing the business of the city and bringing its strength to bear upon important objects for the general welfare, a board of trade sustained by public spirit, is indispensable. Under co-operation of the forces of business great results may be attained. There has been in Portland a sort of "meism" that has prevented this co-operation in its fullest sense. Men have stood apart. There has been much inclination on the part of each one to 'go it alone.' This individualism as applied to energy in business is excellent, but there are common objects that can be reached only through common effort. To this end combination is necessary. For great common object Portland should combine her whole strength and use it. The agent through which she can most effectively act is her Board of Trade. The new growth of the Northwest calls for all her vigor and energy. Let us then increase the efficiency and extend the work of our Board of Trade.

JEFFERSON AND JEFFERSON DAVIS.

The East Oregonian a democratic journal published at Pendleton, protests against THE OREGONIAN'S statement that Jefferson Davis was the faithful political child of Thomas Jefferson. It declares that the doctrine of secession was not contained in Jefferson's Kentucky resolutions of 1798, and quote a passage or two from those resolutions to sustain its position, but it takes care to avoid the passages in which secession is implied and on which Jefferson Davis and his associates relied for justification of their course of action.

"It is true," says the East Oregonian, "that the Kentucky resolutions prepared by Jefferson expressed the doctrine of nullification so far as to declare it to be the sense of the Kentucky legislature that certain acts of congress were wrong, unconstitutional and void." This in itself was a great step toward rebellion. But it is true also that the Kentucky resolutions went a great deal further. They assumed that the several states were united by a compact; agreed upon among each other, that the government created by this compact was not the final or exclusive judge of the extent of its powers, but that "as in all other cases of compact among powers having no common judge each party has an equal right to judge for itself as well of infractions as of the mode and measure of redress."

These were the fatal words in the document framed by Jefferson as an exposition of his view of the government of the United States. Accepted by his party, they set aside the true doctrine of the constitution, which was framed expressly to create a national government and substituted for it the doctrine that the Union was a mere league of states, a 'compact among powers having no common judge' and therefore any state if it chose to regard an act of the government as unconstitutional, and felt aggrieved thereby might take what mode and measure of redress it chose. In 1860-61 Jefferson Davis and his colleagues professed to believe that the rights of their respective states, under the 'compact' had been violated, they adopted the policy of secession as their 'mode and measure of redress,' and appealed to the authority of Jefferson and to the assumption always maintained under his name that the government was only a league of states and that each state might at any time upon cause that seemed good to it, "resume its delegated powers" as the sufficient warrant for their action.

Each seceding state upon its withdrawal from the Union recited Jefferson's state sovereignty dogmas and his claim that each state was entitled to judge for itself both as to "infractions of the compact" and as to the 'mode and measure of redress' and submitted this plea to a candid world as ample justification of the course it was taking. Under the loose confederation that had existed before the constitution there would have been ground on which to base an argument for withdrawal of a state or refusal of a state to submit to the laws of congress, but the constitution was ordained expressly to create 'a more perfect union,' it did away with the doctrine and fact of a league of states; it was not a compact at all. It begins with 'We the people of the United States do ordain and establish this constitution.' Yet after the adoption of this constitution Jefferson and his party still maintained that the government was only a league of states; that a state might nullify and refuse to obey an act of congress; that it might go further in case it felt aggrieved and decide what additional mode and measure of redress it would adopt; that in accepting the constitution it had merely delegated powers that it might resume at pleasure—that is, the state might withdraw from the Union. Jefferson Davis adhered to this political philosophy and followed it throughout his career.

It may be recalled the letter written by Washington to Patrick Henry immediately after Jefferson's dogmas had been enunciated through the Kentucky resolutions. Washington foresaw the danger that was in them strongly denounced them as a perilous assault on the constitution, and warned the country that on the doctrines therein set forth it would be impossible to maintain the Union. Under these doctrines there was always a threat of the dissolution of the Union, until the attempt to dissolve finally came. The controversy was ended, forever let us hope, by the surrender of Jefferson's dogmas at Appomattox. It is now settled, against Jefferson, that the constitution is not a "compact," that the government is not a "league of states," that the states may not "judge each for itself, as well of infractions as of the mode and measure of redress." The Kentucky resolutions of 1798 written by Jefferson, were the law of the Southern Confederacy and went down with it. They have become an episode of history, in which Jefferson Davis will always have distinction as a faithful political child of Thomas Jefferson.

THE THREE AMERICAS' EXPOSITION

A bill has been introduced in both houses of congress which, if it passes, will put a summary stop to the rivalry that has been going on between New York and Chicago for some months past concerning the place for holding the World's Exposition in 1892. This bill, the outlines of which have been given by telegraph was prepared by the national board of promotion in charge of the three Americas' Exposition, and is generous in detail as becomes the nature of the matter with which it seeks to deal. It shows, moreover, a proper spirit of dignity and comprehensiveness that well befits the occasion for which it seeks to provide. It is proposed that the exposition shall be under the direct superintendence of the government, through a board of nine directors, appointed for that purpose by the president, that it shall be held in Washington, and that necessary buildings shall be erected for the exhibition of the various arts and industries of the three Americas and of the world. The grand climax of the occasion, as provided in this bill, is to be the unveiling of a statue of Christopher Columbus on the 12th of October, the ceremonies of which will be under the direct supervision of the department of state, and to witness which the rulers of Europe will be specially and the rest of mankind generally invited.

The most valuable feature of the exposition, as proposed in this bill, however, is that which proposes that among the buildings erected shall be one to be used as a museum for the three Americas and constructed with a view to permanence, which shall remain as a perpetual memorial of a great historical event, and a repository for the antiquities and history of the Western hemisphere. A contingent of $15,000,000 in bonds provides for carrying out the purposes of the bill, and the possession of this museum will prove a return for much of the expense attendant upon the grand display, while its historical value will be vast.

The government, in undertaking the matter, will shut out the spirit of rivalry that makes the grand object of the exposition subservient to local pride and will insure the formation and execution of plans that will comport with the dignity of a great nation and the importance of a great occasion. It may be hoped that the bill will find intelligent favor in congress, to the end that speculation concerning the great exposition may cease and feasible plans for carrying it out may be adopted.

CONVICTS' CALENDAR

Superintendent Downing of the Oregon state prison appeared before the sheriffs' convention which has been in session in this city during two days past, to advocate the necessity of printing a convicts' calendar containing pictures and descriptions of the inmates of the penitentiary. An effort to secure an appropriation of funds to defray the expenses of such a publication failed in the legislature last winter, but after hearing Mr Downing's reasons for desiring to have such a book printed together with an estimate of the cost of the same the assembled sheriffs decided to make provision for its issue and pay the expense themselves, if the county courts of their respective counties do not see fit to meet the charge. Inasmuch as the estimated expense is less than $400, it will be no great matter whether the counties assume it or the sheriffs have to meet it.

From Mr Downing's statement it appears that Oregon and Washington are the only states in the Union that do not assist in the identification of professional criminals by the publication of such a book of record and reference. The large number of this class of criminals in the penitentiaries of the land makes a publication of this nature in the estimation of prison authorities necessary, and though humanitarians and philanthropists, who see in every criminal possibilities of reform demur at such publication as an obstacle to the realization of these possibilities, their objections are overruled by the stern record of facts which shows that a large number of the convicts in every penitentiary have spent the greater part of their lives in prison and their brief intervals of freedom in depredations upon society. As to the others—the occasional criminals—society can hardly afford to make concessions in their behalf which will give the professionals in the ranks of crime an opportunity to ply their vocation with diminished chance of apprehension. It is far safer to compassionate criminals when they are behind prison bars, than when they are abroad seeking. The thief 'who was born so' is the legitimate object of pity but society while it commiserates his depravity and deplores its exercise is not the less entitled to protection from his peculations through such devices as may serve to defeat his cunning.

THE NEW YEARS OREGONIAN

A corps of trained writers are already at work preparing matter for THE NEW YEAR'S OREGONIAN, which it will be the aim of the publishers to make more comprehensive in its review of the progress of the great Pacific Northwest than ever before. The rapidly growing cities throughout Oregon Washington and Idaho will all receive their share of attention as well as Portland. The various sources of industrial wealth agriculture mining timber, manufacturing etc will all be set forth and the whole paper a mammoth quadruple sheet will furnish a vast deal of information that for accuracy arrangement and readable style can nowhere else be obtained.

Officers of the United States senate some of whom have been in the service a quarter of a century are aghast at the audacity of Senator Moody of South Dakota who improved the first day of the session in securing the appointment of his son Warren as page on the floor of the senate. This is declared to be the first instance on record in which the son of a senator has filled the office of page. Nepotism is generally conceded to be the most audacious ism that flourishes in Washington, hence the fact that this case is 'without precedent' is its most astonishing feature.

The denomination known as the Methodist Episcopal Church South was in early days a solecism in Oregon and now is an anachronism everywhere. It quit the regular church because it wanted to uphold slavery yet still tries to live a quarter of a century after slavery is dead. It used to be the "state church" in Oregon under the old democratic regime, and in return for political service to the democratic party was given possession of the State Agricultural college. From this it was ousted a year or two ago. The college, under its direction made no progress; it couldn't get public confidence because it didn't deserve it, and the state was obliged to oust the fossilized occupants in order to rescue the college from utter decay. We find now an article in the Nashville Advocate, the organ of this old denominational relic of a Gospel based on Slavery rather than Salvation, on Cotton rather than Christ, in which it is claimed that the college still belongs to the "Methodist Episcopal Church South"; that by an act of the legislature of Oregon it "fell heir to a property the revenues from which will make its income equal to that of the Vanderbilt university," and that the "church" is very hopeful of winning the suit. Wouldn't the brethren do well to bury that hope, with all remaining appurtenances and mementos of the Lost Cause, in the grave of Jefferson Davis?

Another man has been roasted upon the electric wires in New York city. The details and circumstances of his death were similar to those of his predecessors in this sort of execution. Such a scene would make a fitting illustration for Dante's Inferno. Its horrors are such as cause strong men to turn shuddering from the picture. Its agonies can only be imagined, since none have endured them and lived to recite the story. An accident of this kind can no longer be excused on the plea that the appliance of this powerful agent to the uses of man is still in the experimental stage. Enough is known to insure the protection of the lives of the people. Disasters result not from ignorance but from failure to apply knowledge because its application entails expense and lessens company dividends.

A self respecting nation that rejoices in its own existence and honors the fealty that preserved it has reason to be grateful that the death of Jefferson Davis did not occur during Cleveland's administration. The spectacle of the stars and stripes floating at half mast over the war department buildings in token of mourning would have been galling even to the magnanimous spirit that strives nobly to sink, in the triumph of freedom and unity over slavery and disunion the memory of traitorous deeds.

We are glad to note that the Board of Trade has seconded the call of the Board of Immigration for the erection of dwellings in the city and suburbs. Now another word. The board of trade contains many members who have means to build houses and land whereon to build them. The houses are in demand, too many can't be built. Shall we not expect that some of the 'forehanded' members of the Board of Trade take the lead?

SPIRIT OF THE NORTHWEST PRESS.

JUSTICE AT LAST

Seattle Journal: Discrimination against Seattle in the matter of freight rates is dead so far as the Northern Pacific railroad is concerned. Justice to the merchants of this city has come, it is true a little late in the day and only when forced by the approach of competitive lines for our trade. But better late than never, and now that the queen city finds itself in its true position so far as this matter is concerned, the citizens should see to it that every advantage is taken of it without delay. The erection of great grain elevators and warehouses is needed to handle the immense shipments of grain that will now pour into the city and in addition to this great flouring mills will be required. It is time for activity and the chamber of commerce and the board of trade should take immediate action to stimulate it.

ADVANTAGEOUS FOR THE STATE

Tacoma Ledger: Lair Hill made a most advantageous proposition for the state when before the code committee he offered to do the work of compilation preparation and annotation of a code and pay all the printing bills and furnish 150 paper bound volumes and 2900 royal octavo leather bound volumes of the completed work for $16 000. He will never grow rich in his profession when he does so much and furnishes so much for so little money.

ASTORIA SHOULD SPREAD OUT

Astorian: From the looks of things one of the first matters to be provided for when we get the new charter, is to enlarge the present boundaries of the city, and move it at least embrace the peninsula. If a man can get $50 a foot for his land (and it is well worth the money), he ought not to kick at having it brought inside the city limits. The Astoria of 1890 will be three times the size of the Astoria of 1889.

GOOD BUSINESS POLICY

Tacoma Globe: Since the Northern Pacific Railroad Company has obtained control of the Puget Sound Shore railway, it can afford as a matter of business, to carry freight to Seattle and Tacoma at the same rate notwithstanding the greater distance to the former. It is good policy to do so which it was not so long as the Northern Pacific company had to pay tribute to a foreign line.

A WHISPER ABOUT THE SHERIFFS.

Astoria Transcript: A sheriff's convention was held in Portland to-day. The object as stated is to have the sheriffs of the different counties become better acquainted and thus do more effective work, but it is whispered that the object is to get the fees of sheriffs raised.

A FIRE BOAT

PORTLAND December 10

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I am greatly surprised to note in yesterday's paper the comments attributed to a member of the fire commission and others respecting the proposed fire boat. It is said upon good authority that when the board of fire commissioners were laying their plans for the new additions shortly to be made to the fire department they were desirous of including a provision for a fire boat, but the common council were not ready to consent to such an expenditure.

If at that time a boat was thought to be a necessity, certainly the situation is not in any respect changed and the need for it now is just as great, if not greater.

How many persons in the town have any real knowledge of the quantity and value of the merchandise of every description stored on the water front between Jefferson street and Weidler's mill, which together with the warehouses and brick buildings that contain it, are in constant danger of a general conflagration from a score of special hazards to say nothing of the inherent danger of each individual occupancy. That portion of the city between the points mentioned is, from a commercial standpoint the very life of this place and people. Destroy any large portion of it and Portland's supremacy in the Northwest will be greatly affected thereby.

Along this long line of water front lie many steamboats and miscellaneous craft, which of themselves constitute an element of danger, and which would materially aid in spreading a fire if once started ashore. Let any person who really desires to know make a full and comprehensive personal examination of the water front, and observe the continuous line of frame warehouses with narrow streets between and in many instances no open streets at all because of the platforms and bridges that connect these warehouses. Let him note the quantities of lime, hay, oils of all kinds with other light and inflammable merchandise of every description, to say nothing of poorly constructed chimneys, rickety stovepipes and other opportunities for the one little spark only necessary to convert the whole into a smoldering mass of ruin. I am quite sure he will be convinced of the danger as it really exists and which is a daily hourly menace to this city.

All admit we have a good and efficient department but there is no sense in deceiving ourselves with the idea that it is adequate for the protection of that portion of the city referred to in the event of a big fire. Do the best it may it cannot effectually fight such a fire from three sides with any reasonable hope of success.

The immunity from fire since the organization of the paid department argues nothing for the future, and the common council of this city should lose no time in providing for this boat. The recent heavy fires in Boston and Lynn indicate the fact that departments more powerful and better equipped than our own are not always able to control a heavy conflagration, and in comparison with Boston and Chicago before their great fires this city does not contain any ratable proportion of fire proof buildings then built in either of those cities, and as compared with fire proof structures of this day we practically have none. I could point to a dozen buildings in town that, should a fire of any magnitude occur in any of them would not only burn themselves but would seriously menace everything surrounding them.

What would the possession of a fire boat like that which protects the water front of the city of Chicago mean? It means an instrument for fire protection equal to any six steam fire engines. It means that by use of one of its appliances (the stand pipe) the best constructed wall on the west side of Front street could be battered down by the force of the stream projected against it. It means fire protection to property as far east as Third street. It means an auxiliary to the department for which no other device or contrivance can be substituted. It means with the addition of a wrecking pump an invaluable aid to the shipping of this port in any emergency requiring such service. And further it means that when its value and utility can be fully demonstrated that portion of the present apparatus now located in the heart of the city can be made to cover more territory.

Do not let us wait for our neighbors across the river to help us in this matter and thus lose more time with the greater chances of loss of property. I certainly hope to see some definite action before many days. CITIZEN

SQUIRE AND SEATTLE.

Why the Northern Pacific Granted Just Wheat Rates.

HON W LAIR HILL'S PROPOSITION

The Joint Committee Recommend Its Acceptance and So Draft a Bill

PINKERTON BILL EMASCULATED

New Land District, with Office at Olympia—A Canal From the Sound to Seattle Lakes—A Local Option Bill

OLYMPIA, Dec. 10—If Watson C Squire had not been elected United States senator from Washington Seattle would not have been put on an equal basis with Tacoma in the matter of wheat rates. While the Seattle people are congratulating themselves on their good fortune and thinking the rates were granted because the Northern Pacific suddenly found that it could no longer oppose their city, the politicians here are discussing the shrewd move made by the big railroad company. The Northern Pacific Railroad Company did not want Squire to go to the senate and opposed his election in every way. This was done by order of President Oakes. The company's attorneys, John H Mitchell, jr and Ashton were here several times during the fight and did all in their power to cause a break in Squire's line. "Give us a Tacoma man," they said to the members whom they interviewed, "Give us Thompson or Sprague or anybody so long as he is from Pierce county." The legislature adjourned on the Friday before the election, and many members went to Tacoma to spend the recess. While there they were buttonholed by the Northern Pacific's workers.

Watson C Squire, as a senator is in a position to do many things that he could not do as a citizen. For one thing he could join in the howl for the forfeiture of the Northern Pacific land grant between Wallula and Portland, which is now estimated to be worth upward of $20 000,000 to the Company. The Northern Pacific has its eye on this grant and some day will build down the Columbia river to Portland, as the act of congress which gave it the grant requires.

The trade and commercial organizations of Seattle have often called on the Northern Pacific for equal rates on wheat but the concessions were never granted until the city became the home of one of the United States senators. Then the notice that the rates had been granted was not sent to the board of trade chamber of commerce or the mayor of the city but to the United States senator.

The house to-day passed Senator Kinnear's anti Pinkerton bill but tacked on an amendment that practically killed it so far as it was originally designed. The bill as passed by the senate prevented the organization and maintenance of a body of armed men for any purpose whatever even prohibiting a sheriff from organizing a posse to scour the country for a criminal. As Representative Grubb said when the bill was under fire 'It even prevented the G A R firing a salute over the grave of a dead comrade.' McReavy thought it would make unlawful the organization of independent militia companies.

The house amendment was the following proviso to section 1: Provided that nothing in this act shall be construed to interfere with any sheriff or other legal officer in the discharge of his duty. The detectives thus escape the provisions of the bill. If there is occasion for the services of detectives one of the detectives may be sworn in as a deputy sheriff. This makes him a legal officer in the discharge of his duty and he is authorized to maintain an armed force. The bill passed by a vote of 41 to 22.

The following memorial to congress will be introduced by Senator Owings to morrow: 'First, that the present land district in this state comprising the counties of Whatcom, San Juan, Skagit, Island, Clallam, Jefferson, Snohomish, King, Kitsap, Mason and parts of Pierce, Thurston and Chehalis covers an area of over 17 000 square miles. Second, that all the business of this vast district must be transacted at the land office at Seattle and that there are more than a thousand land cases in that office undisposed of and the officers there, though working over hours are unable to transact the increasing current of business and the same is accumulating rapidly. Third, that persons living in Pierce, Thurston and Chehalis counties south of the fourth standard parallel in order to transact business have to go to Vancouver via Portland a distance of 160 miles at great expense. Wherefore your memorialists pray that a new land district be created bounded as follows: On the north by the township line between townships 22 and 23 on the east by the summit of the Cascade range of mountains on the south by the township line between townships 10 and 11, and on the west by the Pacific ocean, and containing about 8000 square miles and that a land office be located at Olympia which is near the center of the proposed district and easy of access by land or water.'

Representative Cook's local option bill, which was introduced to day, provides that upon the application by petition of one-fourth of the qualified voters of a county the county clerk shall order a special election to determine if it is the wish of the people that liquors be sold in the county. It is made the duty of every supervisor, trustee, alderman, justice of the peace, police officer, marshal or constable of every city to enforce the law and for neglect they will be subject to a forfeiture of $25. Violations shall be punishable as follows: For the first offense a fine of from $50 to $100 or imprisonment from ten to fifty days, or subsequent offenses a fine of from $100 to $500 or imprisonment from thirty to ninety days.

Kinnear's bill to provide for the drawing of petit jurors was inspired by Judge Hoyt. Senator Houghton asked that the bill be given precedence and that the printer be instructed to print it at once so as to get the bill on its final passage. He understood that the supreme court judges thought that there was no adequate provision for the drawing of petit jurors for the terms of the district courts existing.

Representative Allen offered the following memorial in the house this morning and it was adopted. The work it calls for will require the outlay of several millions of dollars. The estimates vary from $500 000 to $1 000 000:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States: Your memorialists of the senate and house of representatives of the state of Washington most respectfully represent:

WHEREAS The city of Seattle a growing maritime port advantageously situated on the waters of Puget sound is bound inland to the east by Lake Union a body of fresh water one mile wide, three miles in length and from fifty to 300 feet in depth.

WHEREAS Eastward of Lake Union lies Lake Washington a body of fresh water four miles wide and about thirty miles in length, with a depth equal to that of Lake Union.

WHEREAS South by southeast of Lake Washington lies Lake Samamish, a body of fresh water nine miles in length with a width and depth about equal to that of Lake Union.

WHEREAS, Lake Samamish is connected with Lake Washington by the waters of the Samamish river, Lake Washington is connected with Lake Union and Lake Union with tide water at Salmon bay on Puget sound by a small shallow canal constructed by private enterprise for logging purposes.

WHEREAS The distance from tide water to Lake Union (or the line of the canal before mentioned) is about one mile in which there is no rise of seven feet the distance from Lake Union to Lake Washington (on the same line) 1 80 feet, in which there is rise of six feet ten inches the distance from Lake Washington to Lake Samamish by the Samamish river about twenty miles, with a rising altitude scarcely perceptible, the construction of a ship canal connecting the three lakes with tide water would be a work very easily accomplished.

WHEREAS The waters of Puget sound are thirty feet ten inches lower than the waters of Lake Washington the construction of such a canal from tide water to Lake Samamish would lower the water margin of all the lakes, an event that would give the Samamish river a fall and current drain the overflow of centuries prevent the back water floods of winter and reclaim a great area of country now worthless but capable of being made valuable agricultural lands.

WHEREAS The advantages of a great land locked fresh water basin for ship building purposes are well understood and since a limitless supply of the best and most valuable timber lines the shore and covers the country surrounding the lakes herein described they would in all probability become with the opening of the aforementioned ship canal great ship building centers.

WHEREAS, The country surrounding the said lakes is rapidly growing in population and since the said country in addition to its timber wealth contains iron and coal mines being now extensively worked the construction of a ship canal connecting the three lakes with tide water would stimulate settlement and foster agriculture mining and manufacturing and commercial industries and the people of the lake country would have a water outlet for their products and ships could load with coal at the very mouth of the mine. Such a ship canal would confer benefits beyond measure upon the commerce of the city of Seattle and the commonwealth of Washington.

In view of these presents we most respectfully recommend to your honorable body the subject matter of a ship canal constructed upon the line hereinbefore defined and we most respectfully ask that the appointment of a committee at an early day to review and report upon the construction of said ship canal.

Appended is the memorial offered by Representative [illegible] in the senate this morning. It was passed:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States: Your memorialists the legislative assembly of the state of Washington would respectfully represent that in the eastern portion of the state and especially the counties of Yakima, Klickitat, Douglas, Franklin and Walla Walla there are vast areas of fertile land that are rendered comparatively useless because of the lack of water for irrigation and other purposes, but, could it be shown that water to supply these lands could be obtained by the sinking of artesian wells homes would be furnished for hundreds of settlers, and the wealth of the state would be greatly increased; that the few settlers now residing upon these lands are poor and unable to take the necessary steps to ascertain if water can be obtained by these means; that to make test wells in different portions of these counties would not require over $50,000, and should said wells prove successful this vast domain, which is now but sparsely settled, would in a few years be thickly studded with large fields of grain, with thousands of orchards bearing nearly every kind of fruit, and made a happy home. We, your honorable memorialists, therefore pray that an appropriation of $50,000 be made for this purpose, and that one of said test wells be sunk on Eureka flat Walla Walla, this being one of the largest and most important of these tracts.

The house had a fight on the printing business this morning. Rutter started the battle with a motion that all bills be ordered printed.

Brown said the resolution was unconstitutional. The constitution, he said, prohibited trusts and combinations and the resolution was the outcome of a combination between the gentleman from Spokane (Clark) and the gentleman from King (Rutter) to keep the subject before the house until it was finally adopted.

Judson, of Pierce, made a hot speech against the motion. He said there was a suspicion that there was something wrong with bills that had not been printed. The house, he said, was the most suspicious body of men he had ever seen. It was not the members of the house who wanted the bills printed, but the outside lobbyists, who had a finger in the pie. The fact that the senate had ordered bills printed did not enter into the question. Many members of that body are now explaining that they own stock in the State Printing Company, which is doing the state printing. If the stock has been placed where it will do the most good well and good. If it was proposed to have a credit mobilier in the first legislature it was right that the people should know it.

Stevenson, Moultray, Megler, Shaw, Eddy and Rutter spoke for the motion.

Rutter's motion was defeated through failure to receive a two thirds vote. The ayes were 38, nays 24.

Just before the session adjourned Ostrander renewed the fight by moving to reconsider the vote by which the resolution was defeated in the morning. The vote was reconsidered, but the resolution failed again to receive a two thirds vote. The vote was Ayes 40, nays 22.

The confirmation of the nomination by the senate to day of D F Percival, of Cheney, as commissioner of the Medical Lake insane asylum, to take the place of Drumheller, resigned completes that board. A Hallett the Medical Lake member of the board, is now in Europe, but will return by March. In the meanwhile Spokane Falls's influence is pushing the appointment of McDonnell of Medical Lake, to take the place of Hallett on account of the absence of the latter. Considerable pressure is being brought to bear on Governor Ferry in this matter but he has decided to await the arrival of Hallett before anything is done. The commission has filed no report on account of Hallett's absence, as he had charge of the work and left no memoranda that can be reached to make a report from.

Cleman's bill to define and prohibit blacklisting makes it a misdemeanor for any telegraph or telephone company or corporation or any body from keeping a black list, under penalty of a fine of $500.

Moultray's resolution for the appointment of a special committee to draft a bill on the tideland question was taken up in the house this morning. Judson of Pierce entered another protest against the method of procedure. He thought the house and senate tideland committees should have been included. Moultray replied that the tide lands committee had taken no step toward drafting a bill. In fact, they considered that it was not their duty to do so.

After some desultory discussion Herren offered a substitute to the resolution, requiring the tide lands committee to prepare and report a bill governing the tidelands, such as in their judgment may be considered consistent with the state's interest therein. Herren's substitute was voted down, 31 to 25.

Kuhn moved that Moultray and Clark be appointed a committee to draft the bill, and that the senate have nothing to do with it. Clark said the object of Kuhn's motion was to burlesque the whole business. The chair hoped the members would refrain from "personalities in debate." Kuhn's motion was voted down 34 to 20.

To expedite matters Moultray withdrew the resolution and the house accepted Herren's motion for the appointment of a committee of five to prepare a bill relating to tide lands. The chair will announce the committee in the morning.

Megler's bill to prohibit the wearing of the badge of G A R by persons not authorized to wear it, was passed in the house after noon. It was designed to reach bummers who travel around the country making a living by representing that they are members of the order. Brown, who is an old soldier, thought that class legislation was proposed and was opposed to it. The vote was ayes 62 nays 2. Those who voted "no" were Brown and Kuhn.

The house and senate to day passed Senator Thompson's (of Pierce), memorial praying congress that the Puyallup Valley Railway Company be allowed the right of way to cross the Puyallup reservation, and the stipulation twice made heretofore that the consent of the Indians be first obtained be not imposed. The Indians have twice refused the company right of way.

Auditor Reed sent the following letter to the senate to-day:

To the Honorable President and Members of the Senate—Gentlemen: I respectfully submit the following general and special estimate for appropriations required for this office, and request that the same or that the amounts thereof in condensed form, be incorporated in the bill appropriating money for expenses incident to the state officers, viz:

Salary of auditor	$ [illegible],000
Salary of deputy auditor and accountant	1 000
Rent of office fuel and lights	400
Messenger and janitor	200
Postage, stationery and incidentals	150
Total	$ [illegible]250
Office books and furniture	$ 435
Grand total	$ [illegible]685

Respectfully submitted,
T M REED Auditor of state.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS

Security of the State Land Grant—The State Printing

OLYMPIA Dec 10—In the senate Clough introduced a memorial asking congress to appropriate $3000 to remove a sand bar at the mouth of the Columbia river, memorial committee.

Whalley introduced a resolution that a committee of five be appointed on the redistricting of the senatorial districts as provided by the constitution. After some debate the resolution was lost.

Geoghegan's house bill for payment of the mileage of members of the legislature was passed.

Senator Owings's memorial asking congress to pass such enactments as will secure to the state the lands granted by the Federal government was taken up and discussed. Senator Long offered an amendment which he calculated would secure to the settler the rights he considered endangered by this memorial. He did not want it advertised abroad that the state of Washington was trying to tie up its public lands and prohibit the poor man from getting a suitable homestead. His amendment to the memorial, providing that bona fide settlers and homesteaders should not be interfered with at any time was adopted, and the memorial was passed as amended.

Nim's house joint resolution providing for the letting of the state's printing to the lowest bidder, was reported from the printing committee, with the following report: "Your committee on printing, to whom was referred house joint resolution No. 4, beg leave to report that we have carefully examined said resolution and are of the opinion that it would be impolitic to let the contract for legislative printing to the lowest bidder, for many reasons, chief of which is that it would be impracticable for the work, more especially the printing of bills, to be done at any other place than the seat of government. This will confine the bidders to Olympia, where it would be possible for the few establishments there to combine and fix a rate greatly in excess of what the state would pay for such work. We would recommend the adoption by enactment of such a scale of prices as to insure good work and reasonable prices for the same, believing that it is not the policy of this legislative body to so reduce the price of any class of labor that the artisan cannot receive full compensation for his services. It is therefore recommended that the house joint resolution be indefinitely postponed."

Senators Wilson, Houghton, Parkinson and Whalley championed the report of the committee, and Senator Kinnear, under the usual grab for all demanded by his constituents at Seattle, objected. He thought the work could be done at Seattle.

Upon roll call the resolution was indefinitely postponed, only Senators Forsythe, Kinnear Gulifoil and Vestal voting in the negative.

Senator Dwight's bill appropriating $2544 for repairs and fixtures to the capitol building expended by certain citizens of Olympia was taken up. The senate went into committee of the whole to consider the bill, and arose recommending that it pass. The bill was sent to the committee on engrossment.

Thompson's (of Walla Walla) memorial in relation to certain lands withheld from entry and settlement by an order from the secretary of the interior for the benefit of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, requesting that these lands be declared to be the property of the state of Washington was passed without amendment.

Roth's house bill providing for changing the name of Sealco to Bucoda was favorably reported from the committee on privileges, and on motion of Thompson, of Pierce, it was made a special order for to-morrow.

The senate then went into executive session upon the nomination of Hon D F Percival, of Cheney, Wash, for commissioner of the hospital for the insane at Medical Lake, in place of Dr Drumheller, resigned. He was confirmed unanimously.

THE WASHINGTON MILITIA.

Extraordinary Plan for Reorganizing the National Guard.

OLYMPIA, Dec 10—Two important bills will be presented in the legislature during the next few days. Hughes of King will present an important-looking and bulky package, which will be a revenue bill. The bill is very lengthy—in fact, it will contain 60 000 words and promises to give the revenue committee some food for consideration. It is modeled after the Minnesota laws on this important subject. The King county member has been engaged in its construction for the past three weeks.

Clark of Spokane will make public his opinions on military legislation in the shape of a somewhat lengthy military bill. If Clark's ideas prevail the militia of the state of Washington will undergo a complete transformation. The central figure of Clark's bill is an inspector general or military inspector, whose duty it shall be to devote his endeavors to improving the efficiency of the various companies. This inspector general is to have the rank of colonel. He will be appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate, and shall hold office for a term of two years. His duties shall be to attend all regimental and brigade drills, and shall devote one day in each year to the drill of each company and one to inspection. His compensation shall be the same as his rank would entitle him to in the regular army of the United States, and he shall be paid only for such time as he is actually engaged.

According to the bill the National Guards shall consist of three regiments of infantry of ten companies each fifty two men to the company. The governor is constituted commander-in chief, and in no emergency shall the militia be called out except by his orders.

The state shall be divided into regimental districts. That west of the summit of the Cascades shall be known as the western district. The central division includes the prosperous counties of Klickitat, Yakima, Okanogan, Douglas, Franklin, Adams and Lincoln. The remainder of the eastern portion of the state shall be known as the eastern district.

Each regiment shall have one colonel one lieutenant colonel, one surgeon, with the rank of major, and one assistant surgeon, with the rank of captain, an adjutant, with the rank of first lieutenant, and a quartermaster. The non commissioned officers shall consist of a sergeant, major, quartermaster and commissary sergeant. These officers to be appointed by the colonel. Each company shall have a captain first and second lieutenants and non-commissioned officers as follows: First sergeant, four duty sergeants, four corporals, all to be appointed by the captain. The brigade officers shall consist of a brigadier general, adjutant general, judge-advocate-general, with the rank of brigadier general four aides-de-camp. In case of emergency the colonel may at his discretion appoint additional officers. No quartermaster-general or paymaster general is provided for, and as all the duties relative to these offices devolve upon the adjutant general, the functionary is entitled to a salary of $2500 per year.

There shall be an annual brigade encampment of three days duration between the 15th day of August and the 1st of October. The colonel of each regiment shall provide an annual drill day for each regiment during the month of September. Provision is made for a camp of instruction of ten days, duration between May and September in each year for field officers. This camp of instruction is under command of the military instructor or inspector general, and it shall be his duty to communicate to his pupils his knowledge of the art of warfare and all its incident requisites. This military instructor must have seen actual service. He must be thoroughly conversant with the art of war. In fact, the duties required of him are such as nobody but an old veteran could possibly be able to perform.

In addition to reducing the number of officers, Clark's bill also provides a peculiar method of election of adjutant and judge advocate general. These officers shall be elected every two years in the following manner. All the commissioned officers in the brigade shall be called together in convention by the governor, and these officers shall designate their choice for these offices by ballot. The names of the first four receiving the largest vote are transmitted by the governor to the next succeeding legislature, and both house and senate shall proceed to fill the vacancies by ballot. All commissioned officers shall receive salary while on drill or duty as their rank would entitle them to in the regular army, and privates shall receive $2 per day while on drill. All independent military organizations shall be subject to the orders of the commander in-chief at any time of emergency. These bodies may join the state militia whenever they wish upon paying the expenses incident to such an act.

SALARIES OF OFFICERS.

The Free Conference Committee Reaches an Agreement

OLYMPIA Dec. 10.—The free conference committee on adjustment of salaries of employes of the legislature over which so much trouble has been had has decided upon the following report:

Your free conference house committee on salaries and compensation appointed to confer with a similar committee from the senate, would most respectfully report that they have unanimously agreed upon the amount of salaries or compensation that shall be paid to each of the employes of the senate and house. The list of such compensation is herewith submitted, and the free conference committee recommend its adoption.

THE CODE OF WASHINGTON.

The Joint Committee Accepts Hon. W Lair Hill's Proposition

OLYMPIA Dec 10—The question of the speedy settlement of the mooted code question now depends on whether the legislature will be satisfied to let one man compile, rearrange and annotate the laws of the state. The subject is off the hands of the joint code committee. At its meeting to night the committee drafted a bill which embodies Hon. W Lair Hill's proposition as outlined in his letter of yesterday and prepared a report recommending its passage.

After so doing the question of reporting the compensation of the members of the code commission for their services came up and Judge Houghton introduced the following resolution:

Resolved That it is the sense of this committee that whereas, the late territorial commission have performed a large and valuable service to the state since the expiration of the term of their appointment which has been received and appreciated by the state it is fit and just that some reasonable compensation be made therefore to said commissioners.

But this the committee failed to see any good way to do as they thought this was a matter for the legislature to deal with directly and that no power had been delegated to it for this purpose, and the resolution was withdrawn. It is understood that the commissioners do not expect more than fair pay for their services and expenses.

A Promiscuous Crowd of Spectators Closely Watch the Proceedings.

THE STATEMENT OF THE PRISONER.

A Question of Veracity Between Witnesses—Testimony of McDevitt, Pennington, Rand, Gibbs, Robinson and Others.

Horace E. Gibbs, the young Pullman [illegible] who shot and fatally wounded James McDevitt at the O. R. & N depot on the night of October 11 last, is on trial for his life, before Judge Stearns, and a jury, in the criminal court. The evidence for the state is very strong, and Prosecuting Attorney McGinn feels confident of being able to prove that the killing was a deliberate murder. However, the attorneys for the defendant claim to have an abundance of evidence to show that Gibbs, in firing the fatal shot, thought he was acting so purely in self-defense.

At 9 40 o clock yesterday morning, after the routine business of the court had been disposed of, the case of the state vs. Gibbs was called. The defendant had been brought into court prior to the opening, and sat with his father and brother conversing in low tones. He was dressed in a [illegible] dark suit. He took matters very cool [illegible] came, and did not display the least [illegible] degree of nervousness, seeming to trust his attorneys implicitly, to clear him of the serious crime with which he is charged.

Sitting at District Attorney McGinn's elbow was Mr Thomas B McDevitt, father of the victim of Gibbs's bullet. He took, as naturally might be supposed, a deep interest in the proceedings. Every question asked whether of a juror or witness, was listened to by him very attentively. Near by, was also M. E. Pennington, the Pullman cashier, or manager, with whom Gibbs had the quarrel just prior to the fatal shooting. He is a very important witness for the state, and took an active interest in all the proceedings.

The state is represented by District Attorney Henry E. McGinn, assisted by T. A. [illegible]. Messrs. Caples, Hurley & Allen are very ably representing the interests of the defendant.

TROUBLE IN SECURING A JURY

Considerable difficulty and delay was experienced in selecting a jury, and [illegible] were examined before twelve jurors acceptable to both sides of the case were empaneled. [illegible] when a recess was taken till 1. [illegible] men were in the jury box, [illegible] men had been examined as to their qualifications. The men excused had, in most cases, [illegible] reports of the shooting in THE OREGONIAN [illegible] formed an opinion, or else had discussed the merits of the case and expressed an opinion. Some had conscientious scruples against capital punishment.

When the afternoon session of court [illegible] the room was well crowded, many of the spectators being colored, several being women.

THE JURORS SELECTED.

A special venire of twelve men called [illegible] 11 30 A. M. after the regular panel had been exhausted, was returned during recess, [illegible] were called to fill the vacancy in the jury box. After they had been exhausted there yet remained two vacant seats in the jury box, and another special venire of twelve men was [illegible] some unexplained reason, the deputy [illegible] with the matter did not return until [illegible] two hours had elapsed, and it was [illegible] fore the jury was completed, as follows:

William Simmons, farmer, East Portland.
T G Harkins, marble cutter, [illegible] Portland.
L. E. Chippman, fruit raiser, St. Johns.
Chas. H. Welch, fruit raiser, Mount Tabor.
L. C. Gibson, carpenter, East Portland.
R. M. Stewart, ex policeman, Portland.
T A. Moorhead, carpenter, Portland.
John Holman, drayman, Portland.
O H. Stott, Portland.
N B Wight, grocer, Portland.
Jesse Waddell, sign painter, Portland.
Peter Shulderman, laborer, Portland.

H E Edwards, one of the first special [illegible] did not answer the summons. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest, and a deputy [illegible] soon brought him before Judge Stearns. [illegible] was a friend of Mr. McDevitt, he was excused from duty.

MR. M'GINN'S OPENING ADDRESS.

After the jury had been sworn, the district attorney made his opening address to the jury. After quoting from the statutes as to what constitutes murder and its different forms, he read Gibbs's indictment, and continued:

"In that indictment, gentlemen of the jury, lies the foundation of what we intend to prove has taken place, that a murder has been perpetrated by Gibbs with deliberate and with premeditated malice. He shot down, in cold blood, in the streets of this city, James McDevitt, a young and promising lad of 16 years, and as the defendant he is being tried, and, I hope, will be convicted. He had not the slightest provocation for doing as he did. After being [illegible] reprimanded by Mr. Pennington, of the Pullman Car Company, he followed him with murder in his heart. He fully [illegible] shooting Pennington down in cold blood, [illegible] latter knew it. He, therefore, called upon McDevitt, father of the murdered lad, to place the porter under arrest. The latter was carrying out the request when he received a bullet in his [illegible]. His son, who saw the murderer's work, [illegible] his father's side, and he received his death [illegible]. We will show that Gibbs was following [illegible] ton, trying to pick a quarrel that he might [illegible] him down with some show of self-defense [illegible] then, if captured, set up a plea of [illegible]. We shall show that McDevitt is an [illegible] in the act of doing his duty when the [illegible] stepped back, saying, 'Oh, no, you can't have [illegible]' at the same time commencing to shoot."

MR. CAPLES'S REMARKS.

Mr Caples, senior counsel for the defense, [illegible] in substance: "In entering upon the [illegible] tion of a case of the terrible importance of [illegible] we first have to have a good jury. To obtain [illegible] we have spent the entire day. This case is [illegible] the most important of a criminal character [illegible] has ever been tried before this tribunal. [illegible] justice On the night of October 11 [illegible] young man in this city was shot [illegible] subsequently died from the wound, and the defendant is, in a way the cause of it [illegible] fortunate circumstance. I am here to say [illegible] there is not a person alive to-day, [illegible] present, or has been ever since the [illegible] fired, than the defendant. I will not [illegible] father of the dead boy. He has his [illegible] grief but the defendant's sorrow is deep. [illegible] has taken human life, and, gentlemen, [illegible] not know the feeling that that brings [illegible] person.

Now there has been some cause for this [illegible] ing. A person does not draw a [illegible] unless he has some reason. We [illegible] sources the fact that this man Pennington [illegible] is the employe of a corporation in the [illegible] superintendent, or something else, [illegible] sion of the corporation lash, which [illegible] upon whom he chooses that is [illegible] his. He can, upon the slightest [illegible] charge a man, and, of course, he has [illegible] Pennington had some difficulty with [illegible] ant. It is a well-known fact that the [illegible] not count among his numerous [illegible] friend. He abuses them as if they [illegible] they can not rebel.

Every employe of the Pullman Car Company has to be polite to the latter's patrons. [illegible] find that on the night of the shooting [illegible] clear down to the Northern Pacific depot [illegible] the train, but, although she had a ticket [illegible] berth, the porter, who is this defendant, [illegible] that it was against the rules of the [illegible] told her that the cars had not yet been [illegible] and that she could not enter. She [illegible] lowed to deposit one or two little packages [illegible] car as she was going back up town and [illegible] wish to be burdened with them. Now [illegible] just what either you or I would have done [illegible] similar circumstances, he politely took [illegible] parcels and deposited them in the car, [illegible] lady went her way. Along comes Manager Pennington and in the vilest language, [illegible] for showing this little kindness. He [illegible] the defendant that if he could not stand [illegible] and abide by the rules of the company, [illegible] quit right there. Gibbs replied that he [illegible] He packed up his little bundle of clothes [illegible] be placed on the platform of the O. R. & N [illegible] locked. Then he went to the [illegible] depot where Pennington said he was going [illegible] purpose of giving up his keys. In [illegible] keys, he did not act just right, for [illegible] on the ground and used improper language [illegible] brutal employer. Pennington picked up [illegible] which Gibbs had thrown down and, [illegible] company started back towards the [illegible] cific depot. In doing so, they [illegible] passed McDevitt and Pennington [illegible] to show more of his power, ordered [illegible] arrest. Now, Mr. McDevitt [illegible] make the arrest but, nevertheless [illegible] so. At the time he had two [illegible] and Gibbs took him to be a [illegible] of Pennington. Accordingly [illegible] but McDevitt held on to him and [illegible] Now this boy, as he is called [illegible] father, and, in the dark, Gibbs [illegible] was about to be beaten to death [illegible] Pennington's request, and so drew [illegible] a just resort. This is what we are going [illegible] and I trust you will grant [illegible] and that is, gentlemen, that you [illegible] fendant a fair and impartial trial."

An adjournment was taken after the [illegible] until 7 30 o clock.

THE EVENING SESSION.

The trial was resumed promptly at 7 P. M. [illegible] the state put Thomas B. McDevitt, father of [illegible] boy for the killing of whom Gibbs is being tried, on the stand. His testimony did not take [illegible] direct examination did not take [illegible] utes while but a quarter of an hour [illegible] in the cross questioning [illegible] drew designs, etc., [illegible] son, Pennington [illegible] time of the shooting. His testimony on examination was as follows: "I was standing near the O R & N [illegible] I saw Pennington coming up on the [illegible] being near him. Pennington said to [illegible] porter has been abusing me all night [illegible] I am afraid of him.' I said 'Young man consider you[illegible] arrest.' He replied 'Not much I ain't under [illegible]' I replied, 'Be careful, I am an officer and you are liable to get yourself in[illegible] law' and stepped up catching him by the [illegible] coat. He broke away and ran twenty [illegible] feet. I went after him and as I [illegible] about four feet of him he blazed away [illegible]"

Witness was then asked to examine [illegible] vest which were introduced in evidence [illegible] coat was worn by himself at the [illegible] shooting and had been pierced by the [illegible] the third shot. He identified the blood [illegible] vest as the one having been worn by [illegible] at the time he received his death wound.

On cross examination witness admitted [illegible] never reported at the police station [illegible] same as the other special policemen, th[illegible] the O. R. & N Co uniform, and that [illegible] the front part of his cap were the wo[illegible] "Ticket Agent." He wore his star o[illegible] inside of his coat. He said that he [illegible] appointed a special policeman by the [illegible] commissioners several months since, but [illegible] received no remuneration for being such [illegible] empowered to make arrests the same as [illegible] officers, by virtue of his appointment by [illegible] commissioners.

DR RAND AND T SHERRY

Dr David H Rand testified as to [illegible] James McDevitt before he was removed [illegible] Northern Pacific. "He was suffering fr[illegible] shot wound, almost in a state of colla[illegible]" Dr Rand. "The wound," he continu[illegible] "below the center of the right lung. I [illegible] treat him for seven days. He revived [illegible] but we only succeeded in keeping him al[illegible] days. It was only by using powerful s[illegible] that he was kept alive that long."

T Sherry testified that he heard the [illegible] and ran up and found McDevitt kneel[illegible] ing his son with his left arm and a revol[illegible] right hand. He gave him the revolve[illegible] hunted for Gibbs, but could not find him.

M E PENNINGTON'S TESTIMONY.

M E Pennington the state's most i[illegible] witness with the exception of Mr McD[illegible] next called and testified as follows: "I a[illegible] cashier of the Pullman Car Company [illegible] down to the Northern Pacific depot to in[illegible] sleepers before their departure on the [illegible] October 11 last. I went into the car Or[illegible] saw Porter Gibbs laying down beds. I [illegible] some baggage in the parlor and asked th[illegible] who they belonged to.

"'It belongs to some passengers' he re[illegible] 'Don't you know that it is against the [illegible] open the cars before 9 o'clock,' telling hi[illegible] was one of the most important rules of t[illegible] pany and must be enforced.

"I went to the other end of the car an[illegible] that the locker was in a very disorderl[illegible] tion and remarked to Gibbs, 'This lock[illegible] a very bad condition. I hope when you [illegible] that it will present a better appearanc[illegible]' passed out I saw a lady sitting in a vac[illegible] tion. I stepped across the track to anot[illegible] and on returning I saw Gibbs standing [illegible] of the open car door. I approached and [illegible] 'Is that lady in the car a passenger?' [illegible] replying that she was I said [illegible] 'Gibbs that shows how important it is [illegible] the rules of this company.'

"I then told him that if he could not o[illegible] rules he could quit as soon as he liked. [illegible] he replied

"'Well I'm here to make a dollar wh[illegible] can.'

"I then left the car and went over to t[illegible] & N. depot to see about some linen. I can[illegible] and was leaning on a railing watching [illegible] approaching train, when I was startled by [illegible] some one say behind me in a very savage [illegible] 'What was that you said to me over [illegible] car?'

"I repeated what I had said about the [illegible] the company. His left hand was behind h[illegible] with his right he reached into his rig[illegible] pants pocket and, withdrawing it, he th[illegible] keys of the car to the walk at my feet, say[illegible] 'Take your keys and be ——, you —— [illegible]' he replied.

"I then told him that he had better be [illegible] or I would have him arrested.

"To this he replied 'Go to ——, you —— [illegible]'

"I was stooping to pick up the keys [illegible] time, and looking up saw that he looked p[illegible] fairly savage and I became frightened [illegible] right up and walked straight to where Offi[illegible] Devitt was standing. I said to him: 'This man has been abusing me, and [illegible] him arrested.'

"Officer McDevitt turned to Gibbs an[illegible] 'Young man consider yourself under arres[illegible]' A scuffle ensued, during which three [illegible] were fired. After the first shot was fired [illegible] McDevitt say 'Don't shoot my boy.' I w[illegible] beyond and heard the second shot. The [illegible] were heard, and immediately a large cro[illegible] lected. In the excitement that followed I [illegible] notice what became of Gibbs."

Witness was put through a very severe [illegible] amination, but he did not waver fro[illegible] story. He denied emphatically that he us[illegible] improper language to the defendant.

THE CAPTURER OF GIBBS

Constable and Deputy Sheriff William Cla[illegible] of Ureka, Cal who arrested Gibbs was th[illegible] to take the stand. He was not allowed to [illegible] as to what Gibbs told him while in his c[illegible] as it was not admissible as evidence. After [illegible] argument and citing of authorities, the [illegible] allowed witness to answer a question [illegible] whether the defendant denied his ident[illegible] when arrested. He said that when Gibb[illegible] first arrested he denied that he was the [illegible] wanted and it was not until he was put [illegible] irons and started for this city that he, seein[illegible] the jig was up, broke down and confessed th[illegible] the much looked for man.

THE STATE RESTS ITS CASE

Clarkson was the last witness for the state [illegible] counsel for the defense, who had expecte[illegible] they would not be called on for testimony t[illegible] morrow were considerably surprised th[illegible] state should rest so soon. Mr Caples aros[illegible] asked for time for a consultation, intimatin[illegible] would be more convenient for him if [illegible] argument were taken until to-day. Judge S[illegible] a little impatiently remarked that too much [illegible] had already been taken up with the case, an[illegible] the trial would have to proceed, inasmuch [illegible] was only 6 30 o'clock. Accordingly the d[illegible] called Cornelius Robinson, their first witness [illegible] testified:

"I have only been in the city a short tim[illegible] general laborer. I was expecting my fam[illegible] arrive from the East, and was waiting f[illegible] train on the night James McDevitt was [illegible] When I first took notice of the words that [illegible] in the shooting I was leaning against the [illegible] talking to a gentleman. Suddenly I was sur[illegible] hear some one say 'You can consider yo[illegible] under arrest.'

"'No you don't arrest me,' I heard som[illegible] answer.

"The first speaker then replied, 'I am an o[illegible]' and I saw him put his hand o[illegible] shoulder of the person he was talking to, [illegible] struggled around a little and then I hear[illegible] person making the arrest, or at least tryi[illegible] aloud for help and then heard the report [illegible] pistol followed by a call from the offic[illegible] 'Don't shoot my boy.'"

On cross-examination he said that the r[illegible] did not interfere was that he thought his [illegible] interest in the fight, especially as firearms [illegible] were used. He heard three shots fired altog[illegible] Officer A. P. DeLin was sworn but he s[illegible] testified as to holding the inquest on the re[illegible] of young McDevitt.

THE DEFENDANT'S BROTHER.

Donald Gibbs was the next person to step [illegible] the witness box. He testified that he w[illegible] brother of H. E. Gibbs, who he said was bo[illegible] Victoria, but educated in the East. "I w[illegible] charge of the Pullman sleeper next to the o[illegible] which this quarrel started. I heard part o[illegible] conversation that took place between Horac[illegible] Pennington. I came out of my car and hear[illegible] talking to my brother in a very ex[illegible] manner.

"He said 'You —— black —— [illegible] I'll fix you. You will never make an[illegible] on this car.' He then went away, and [illegible] said to my brother 'Young man, don't you ever let this [illegible] again.'

"My brother replied 'Mr Pennington, I [illegible] think I have done anything very wrong. W[illegible] to-night has frequently been done before [illegible] 'That don't make any difference, —— [illegible] don't let it occur again,' was Pennington's [illegible] as he walked off toward the O. R. [illegible] depot. My brother went in the car got his [illegible] on returning to the platform went off [illegible] direction taken by Mr Pennington. That [illegible] I saw of the quarrel. I did not see the s[illegible]"

IN HIS OWN BEHALF

The defendant was then called to testify in [illegible] own behalf. He took the stand and, without [illegible] hesitation, told his story as follows.

"After finishing my supper on the evening [illegible] shooting occurred, I went immediately to [illegible] Northern Pacific depot. On changing my [illegible] clothes for my uniform at [illegible] depot, I put the pistol in [illegible] pocket. On arriving at the trai[illegible] into the car Oriole and commenced l[illegible] down the beds. Pretty soon two ladies c[illegible] gentleman came in, and one of the former [illegible] if all the berths were taken. I replied [illegible] they were not, but it was against the rules to [illegible] the car before 9 o'clock. She then asked [illegible] her a berth, giving me $5 [illegible] with which to pay for [illegible] She had two small packages with her, which [illegible] she asked to be permitted to leave as she want[illegible] back up town. I complied with her re[illegible] and she left.

"About five minutes after the lady left Mr [illegible] Pennington came in and seeing the two small [illegible] lying on a seat in the parlor, said, 'Wh[illegible] are these things?' I explained th[illegible] stances surrounding their being [illegible] He then started to say [illegible] thing, but noticing a lady who had co[illegible] the car, he checked himself. The lady [illegible] was the innocent cause of the tro[illegible] the car Mr. Pennington then again too[illegible] I replied [illegible] 'Mr. Pennington I can make a little m[illegible] and then by allowing the small favors [illegible] seem to think you are running thi[illegible] 'You,' he said. 'But I'll fix you, you'll [illegible] another run after this trip.' He then left the car, and I went to the [illegible] saw me and asked me what the m[illegible] I had started in to tell him, when Mr [illegible] again returned, and addressing me, [illegible] 'Don't you let this occur again.' [illegible] I replied that I had meant to do no[illegible] when he checked me, and said that if [illegible]

... His testimony on direct examination was as follows: "I was standing near the O R & N depot when I saw Pennington coming up on the walk Gibbs said to Pennington said to me. This man has been abusing me all night arrest him; I am afraid of him.' I said, 'Young man consider yourself under arrest.'

He replied, 'Not much I ain't under arrest.' I said, 'Be careful, I am an officer of the law, and you are liable to get yourself into trouble.' I started by catching him by the lappel of his coat. He broke away and ran twenty or twenty feet. I went after him and as I got within reach of him he blazed away."

Witness was then asked to examine a cuff and a coat which were introduced in evidence. The cuff was worn by himself at the time of the shooting and had been pierced by the bullet. of the pistol shot. He identified the blood stained coat as the one having been worn by his son at the time he received his death wound.

On cross-examination witness admitted that he was not reported at the police station for duty, the same as the other special policemen, that he wore the O R & N Co. uniform, and that worked in the cap, part of his cap were the words "O R & N Ticket Agent," he wore his star on his vest. He said that he had been appointed a special policeman by the police commissioners several months since, but that he received no compensation for being such. He was empowered to make arrests the same as other officers by virtue of his appointment by the commissioners.

DR. RAND AND J SHERRY

Dr. David H Rand testified as to examining the body of McDevitt before he was removed from the Northern Pacific. "He was suffering from a gun shot wound, almost in a state of collapse," said he. "I found," he continued, "was found in the centre of the right lung. I continued to attend him for seven days. He revived a little, and I finally succeeded in keeping him alive seven days by vigorously using powerful stimulants. He was kept alive that long."

Jerry Sherry testified that he heard the shooting, came up and found McDevitt kneeling, held him up with his left arm and a revolver in his right hand. He gave him the revolver, and he looked for Gibbs, but could not find him.

MR E. R. PENNINGTON'S TESTIMONY

E R Pennington, the state's most important witness, with the exception of Mr McDevitt, was next called and testified as follows: "I am receiving clerk of the Pullman Car Company. I went down to the Northern Pacific depot to inspect the cars before their departure on the night of the killing. I went into the car Oriole and found Porter Gibbs laying down beds. I noticed some baggage in the parlor and asked the porter whom it belonged to.

"Belongs to some passengers,' he replied.

"I said, 'You know that it is against the rules to let the cars before 9 o'clock,' telling him that it was one of the most important rules of the company and must be enforced.

"I went to the other end of the car and found the locker was in a very disorderly condition. I remarked to Gibbs, 'This locker is in bad condition. I hope when you come in you will present a better appearance. As I finished I saw a lady sitting in a vacant section. I stepped across the track to another car, and on returning I saw Gibbs standing in front of the upper car door. I approached and asked him what lady in the car a passenger? and on learning that she was, I said

"Well, that shows how important it is to obey the rules of this company.'

"He told him that if he could not obey the rules he could quit as soon as he liked. To this he replied

'I'll make more money than you do make a dollar whenever I want.'

"I then left the car and went over to the O. R. & N. depot to see about some linen. I came back, and was leaning on a railing watching an approaching train when I was startled by hearing some one say behind me in a very savage voice

"What was that you said to me over at the car?'

"I repeated what I had said about the rules of the company. His left hand was behind him and in his right he reached into his right hand pocket, and, withdrawing it, he threw the cigar he was carrying to the walk at my feet, saying

'Take your keys and be ——, you —— ——.'

"He replied,

'I told him that he had better be careful, or he would have him arrested.'

"He then replied, 'Go to —— you —— ——.'

"I was stooping to pick up the keys at that time, and on looking up saw that he looked particularly savage, and I became frightened. I got away and walked straight to where Officer McDevitt was standing. I said to him

"That man has been abusing me, and I want him arrested.'

"Mr McDevitt turned to Gibbs and said, 'Young man, consider yourself under arrest.'

"A scuffle ensued, during which three shots were fired. After the first shot was fired I heard McDevitt say, 'Don't shoot my boy.' I wheeled around just after the second shot. The reports were heard immediately in a large crowd collected, and in the ensuing scramble that followed I did not see anything more of Gibbs."

Witness was put through a very severe cross-examination, but he did not waver from the statement he stated emphatically that he used any profane language to the defendant.

EMPLOYMENT OF GIBBS

Deputy Sheriff William Clarkson, who arrested Gibbs was the next witness. He was not allowed to testify as to what Gibbs told him while in his charge, as it was not admissible in evidence. After many minutes of citing of authorities the court ruled that to answer a question as to whether the defendant denied his identity on the stand, and that when Gibbs was arrested he denied that he was the man wanted and it was not until he was put on the train for this city that he seeing that his escape was impossible broke down and confessed that he was the man looked for man

THE STATE RESTS ITS CASE

This was the last witness for the state. The defense who had expected that they would be called on for testimony till the afternoon were considerably surprised that the state rested at 11:30. Mr Caples arose and asked for a consultation intimating that it would be more convenient for him if an adjournment could be taken until to-day. Judge Stearns immediately remarked that so much time has already been taken up with the case and that it was about time to proceed inasmuch as the hour was 11:30 o'clock. Accordingly the defense called Mr Robinson, their first witness. He testified that he had been in the city a short time and had come from the East and was waiting for the arrival of his family. On the night James McDevitt was shot, he did not hear one of the words that ended in the shooting. I was leaning against the railing when a gentleman, suddenly I was surprised to hear some one say 'you can consider yourself under arrest.'

"You don't arrest me,' I heard some one say.

"The speaker then replied, 'I am an officer.' Then I saw him put his hand on the shoulder of the person he was talking to. They scuffled a little and then I heard the shot. I saw the arrest, or at least trying to arrest him and then I heard the report of a pistol followed by a call from the officer of the railway boy."

On cross-examining him he said that the reason he gave for his interference was that he thought his place was in the fight especially as firearms were used. He heard three shots fired altogether.

Dr. E. P. Dolan was sworn but he simply testified that he held the inquest on the remains of McDevitt.

THE DEFENDANT'S BROTHER.

The next witness was the next person to step into the witness box. He testified that he was the brother of E. Gibbs, who he said was born in Virginia and educated in the East. I was in the Pullman sleeper next to the one in which the quarrel started. I heard part of the conversation that took place between Horace and Pennington. I came out of my car and heard the latter talking to my brother in a very excited manner.

"You —— —— black —— —— ——.

"Pennington. You will never make another trip with me. He then went away and on returning said to my brother

"Now, don't you ever let this occur again,' he replied. 'Mr Pennington, I don't think I have done anything very wrong. What I did has been done frequently by others before.'

"It don't make any difference, —— —— you for a poor, agin' was Pennington's answer. He walked off toward the O R & N depot and my brother went in the car got his coat and standing in the platform went off in the direction taken by Mr Pennington. That's the last I saw of the quarrel. I did not see the shoot

The defendant was then called to testify in his own behalf. He took the stand and without any hesitation told his story as follows

"After eating my supper on the evening the shooting occurred I went immediately to the Northern Pacific depot. On changing my civilian clothes for my uniform at the station I put the pistol in my pocket. On arriving at the train I opened the doors and commenced laying out the beds. Pretty soon two ladies and a gentleman came in and one of the former asked that two berths were taken. I replied that it was against the rules to open the berths before 9 o'clock. She then asked me to give her a berth, giving me a $5 gold piece with which to pay for it. She then put her small packages with her, which she had in a sort of portmanteau to leave as she wanted to go about town. I complied with her request

"A few minutes after the lady left Mr Pennington came in, and seeing the two small packages and the lady's seat in the parlor said, 'What in —— —— do those things mean?' I explained the circumstances surrounding their being left. He then started to say something about a lady who had come in when he checked himself. The lady seeing that she was the innocent cause of the trouble went out. Mr Pennington then again took me to task.

"'Well,' said I, 'I can make a little money doing this,' and by showing these small favors. He said, 'If you think you are running this car you are mistaken. But I'll fix you, you'll never go out on another run after this trip.'

"Pennington got off the car, and I went to the door and he turned and asked me what the matter was. I followed him to tell him, when Mr Pennington immediately returned, and addressing me, said 'Never let this occur again.'

"'I will,' said I, 'I had meant to do nothing wrong.' He then checked me, and said that if I did not like the way things were going, I could quit and started off. I locked the car, and soon started off for the O R & N depot, where he said he was going. I came across him, but he said 'Go on, I don't want to have anything to do with you.' I threw the keys down, and he started off, and I followed him. When he got down to where Mr McDevitt was, I did not know the latter then, he said something to him, and he sprang at me and caught me by the vest, ripping off all the buttons. I had become excited and thought that it was some conspiracy to down me. I did not see anything that would make me think he was an officer. He did not wear a policeman's uniform or star. When I pulled back he said

"'You will resist will you,' and called come boys and help me, reaching his right hand behind him. I thought he was going to pull a gun, and when I saw his son whom I took to be a man in the twilight owing to his height I thought that I was a goner unless I defended myself. I drew my pistol then, and shot, as I firmly believed in self defense. I did not know I hit any one, but ran down to the docks where I stayed, making for the hills back of town the next day. I remained around the outskirts of town seven days before leaving for the south."

THE CROSS EXAMINATION

District Attorney McGinn took the witness in hand at the conclusion of his testimony and put him through a short but rigid cross examination. The witness did not deviate to any great extent from the statement given above. He said that the reason he tried so hard to elude the officers was on account of the prejudice against his race and he was afraid that whether he shot any one or not that if caught, he would not be given a fair trial if he got any hearing at all.

At 10 o'clock court adjourned. The trial will be resumed at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

THEY ARE NOT ON THE MAKE

The Object of the Sheriffs' Convention Was Not to Increase Their Emoluments

The sheriffs' convention met at 1 P M yesterday. After the meeting had been called to order the secretary Mr A N Hamilton on behalf of the convention, proceeded to present Sheriff Kelly with a handsome gold headed cane of ebony. Mr Hamilton alluded to the high esteem in which Sheriff Kelly is held by the other sheriffs of the state for his accommodating ways both during the convention and on every occasion where he has an opportunity to render assistance to a brother officer.

Mr Kelly was taken wholly by surprise, but expressed, in a few heartfelt sentences his high appreciation of the gift. The cane is to be engraved with a legend setting forth the circumstances of its presentation.

A recess was then taken, and upon reassembling a general discussion was participated in canvassing the objects of the association and the good hoped to be accomplished by it. Reference was made to the imputation that the object of the meeting had been to increase the fees of the sheriff's office. Every one earnestly disclaimed all such purpose or desire. The sheriffs are satisfied with the compensation which the law allows them. Their sole object in meeting together has been to facilitate the transaction of the duties of their offices and to further the administration of justice and the punishment of crime.

A complete enrollment was then made and is as follows: President E W Sanderson, of Gilliam, vice president, J G Moss of Josephine, secretary, A N Hamilton of Union, treasurer Penumbra Kelly, of Multnomah. Other members Zo Houser of Umatilla, W H H Sampson of Clackamas, John Combs of Crook, P M Dennis of Washington, L M Croisan of Marion, William McKay, of Benton, C A Rinehart of Wallowa, J G Birdsey of Jackson, J M Sloan of Lane, George H Harbert of Wasco, I B Hinshaw of Baker, H C Murray of Malheur, T R Howard of Morrow, E M Leslie of Sherman, W P Grey of Grant, I S Smith of Polk and G S Downing superintendent of the state penitentiary at Salem.

During their stay in the city the sheriffs have visited many leading points of interest and formed acquaintances with the county and city officials, which cannot but inure to the more facile handling and capturing of criminals. They are a genial and whole souled body of men, these stalwart custodians of the public peace, and though their deliberations have not been marked by any great display of parliamentary acumen or forensic accomplishments they are, as one of them said "pretty good single handed tall ers."

Many of them hold their office by virtue of a popularity which has elected a republican sheriff in a democratic county and vice versa, consequently they might reasonably be expected to compare favorably with officials who depend for their positions upon influence with appointing powers.

THAT MUCH COMPLAINED OF ROAD

Councilmen Fliedner and Farrell and Wm Chapman Decide That it is Very Bad

Councilmen Fliedner and Farrell of the committee on streets and W S Chapman, city superintendent of streets, were yesterday driven out on the White House road to inspect the old dilapidated plank section regarding which so much complaint has been made for several months past. They found the road just as they expected —very very bad. Many of the old planks are rotted out and the old ones ... would be no credit to any one in this country road in pioneer days. The condition of the road really is such that it is unsafe to drive over it except with vehicles of the strongest kind.

"What are you going to do about it?" was asked Councilman Fliedner. In reply, he muttered something about ring politics and then stated that he had asked the same question of himself. "It is impossible to do anything now" said he "unless it be to repair the road by replacing some of the most decayed planks with new ones. It would be foolish to attempt to macadamize it during the winter, as the rock and other material would sink out of sight. There is no bottom to the roadway and consequently no good work can be done."

"The probability is that if the road were now patched up with a few new planks the city council might think that it is good for several years more, and no permanent improvements would be made," suggested the reporter.

"That is true too," replied Mr Fliedner. "The road should have been macadamized long before this."

It is still a question what action, if any will be taken. If the road is temporarily repaired, permanent improvement may be deferred, and if it is not repaired some serious accidents may be looked for. If the road could be entirely closed up until favorable weather for macadamizing sets in the certainty of its permanent improvement at the earliest possible day would be assured, but the difficulty lies in making a road for temporary use during the interim.

THE DEFENSE HEARD FROM

Captain George Roabe Explains How the Hoag Tore Away the Modoc's Guards

Captain George Roabe of the Oregon Pacific's steamboat William M Hoag gives a version of the accident between his boat and the Modoc, which puts a different light on the subject.

"I was already running under slow bell," he says, "before I came up with the Modoc, for I did not wish to pass her until there would be plenty of room. We were going so much faster than she was that I could not afford to keep behind her and at a wide place in the Kolaschute we steamed up. There was plenty of room between us, and took the shallowest side of the river where there is a gravel bar. After we had nearly passed the Modoc she swung around and struck the Hoag not injuring the Hoag at all but carrying away the Modoc port guards. The Modoc had plenty of room on her starboard side.

They claim I ran into her. How could I do that when I had got so near past her that her bow only were abreast of my starboard quarter? The fact is they wanted to lock guards with me, as is sometimes done and got the worst of it. God knows I want to injure no man's boat."

The case comes up for official inspection on Friday.

TIMBER LAND AS A SPECULATION

A Trio Who Have Bought 24,000 Acres and Want More.

J W Farquhar of Forest Grove, one of the heavies timber land buyers in the state, was seen at the Esmond yesterday.

"Most of the timber land in this country," said he to a reporter, "has only a speculative value. That is, it is worth just what it will bring. If a man is willing to pay $1000 for a good claim it is worth it and if he pays $2000 that sum may be considered the price of it. There is no fixed value. Prices are regulated largely by location of the land. The facility with which the timber can be got to market is the principal factor in determining values.

"There is a class of land locaters and agents in the country who offer good timber claims for from $500 to $600. Now this is an impossibility. The land either contains no timber or else is so remote from streams or other methods of transportation that the timber is valueless for many years to come. There are no good timber claims going a begging. They all bring a good price and find ready buyers."

Mr Farquhar in conjunction with two other men, has bought 24,000 acres of timber land as a speculation. About 14,000 acres of this is in Tillamook county, while the rest is in the Grays harbor country.

EXPLOSION AT OREGON CITY

The Perilous Experiment of Thawing Out Powder Proved Unsuccessful

At Oregon City yesterday morning an explosion occurred on the west side of the river, at the Crown paper mill works which shook the town and was felt two miles distant. Fortunately no one was hurt, but quite a little damage was done.

The company bought a shanty near the site of their works, which they used as a store-room and tool house. A considerable quantity of No. 2 giant powder being stored therein. This morning the powder was a little damp and cold, and the man in charge of the blasting had a hole in the floor and a fire on the ground before which he was thawing the powder. He left it to go out to the works and returned in a short time to find it on fire. He turned and started to run, but was so frightened that he hardly knew which way to go. At length he half ran, half stumbled, toward the blacksmith shop and had just reached the door when the powder—sixty two sticks—exploded with a terrific crash, scattering the shanty, tools and implements in every direction. The man who had been thawing the powder was knocked down probably by the concussion but not seriously hurt.

The most damage done was to Architect A H Towne's fine transit, which stood in one corner of the room and was thrown quite a piece and broken to some extent. Besides the powder exploded, a quantity was stored in boxes, but fortunately the force of the explosion did not set it off or the result might have been fatal to some

PRIZES FOR PENMANSHIP.

The School Board's Chairman Anxious to Encourage Good Writing

Hon D P Thompson has purchased two very fine large steel engravings, appropriately framed ready for hanging, which he will offer as prizes first and second to the grammar grades of the public schools of this city as a reward for excellence in penmanship.

"I do not intend them to be individual prizes," said Mr Thompson, "but the room or class which has secured the highest percentage in penmanship at the close of the present school year shall have the first choice and the second the next. Three judges are to be appointed by the city superintendent so that the awards will be made fairly. I am anxious to see an improvement in penmanship among the pupils of the schools of this city and am willing to do everything in my power to cause such an advancement. It is extremely necessary that one should be able to write well in order to be a good bookkeeper correspondent or office boy. I don't care in what capacity I employ a young man in my business he must be a good penman. It is a valuable qualification. I hope to be able to cause an increase of interest in this direction and believe that I have found a good way to reach valuable results. After the awards are made the engravings are to be hung in the respective successful classrooms."

J. H. FAULKNER WINS THE MATCH

An Exciting Wrestling Contest Witnessed by Thousands of People

The great battle is over. The catch as catch-can wrestling match between J H Faulkner champion light weight of the world and Peter Schumacher, champion of the Pacific coast, for $250 a side came off at the Mechanics pavilion, last night and was witnessed by fully 3000 people. It was one of the finest exhibitions of scientific wrestling ever witnessed in this city, and a hard fought battle in which the plucky lightweight came out victorious. The first fall was won by Schumacher in 14 minutes and 36 seconds, the second by Faulkner in 19 minutes and 54 seconds, and the third also by Faulkner, in 21 minutes and 17 seconds.

As soon as the cheering subsided, Schumacher offered to wrestle Faulkner five styles (Graeco Roman, side hold back hold catch as catch can and collar and elbow), giving odds of $300 to $00.

"Are you not satisfied yet?" asked Faulkner who refused to engage in a five style match owing to Schumacher's greater weight.

The contestants finally decided to engage in a three bout contest Friday night, one to be catch as catch can, one Graeco Roman and the man who wins the quickest fall to decide the style of the deciding bout. The match is for $200 aside. Each put up $50 last night.

Terrible Skin and Scalp Disease Psoriasis Eight Years Head, Arms and Breast a Solid Scab Best Doctors and Medicines Fail Cured by Cuticura at a cost of $3 75

Cured by Cuticura

I have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES with the best results. I used two bottles of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT three boxes of CUTICURA and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP and am cured of a terrible skin and scalp disease known as psoriasis. I had it for eight years. It would get better and worse at times. Sometimes my head would be a solid scab, and was at the time I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. My arms were covered with scabs from my elbows to my shoulders, my breast was almost one solid scab, and my back covered with sores varying in size from a penny to a dollar. I had doctored with all the best doctors with no relief and used many different medicines without effect. My case was hereditary and I began to think, incurable but it began to heal from the first application of CUTICURA. ARCHER RUSSELL, Deshler, Ohio

A Grateful Mother

I thank you for your CUTICURA REMEDIES and feel that in doing so I might be able to save some person from a heavy doctor's bill which I know it has done for me. My baby was seven weeks old when I began to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES for a disease which had spread itself all over its head and face. I was nearly distracted had been to the doctor's, but got no satisfaction. Before two days use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES the scabs began to loosen, and in three weeks I could hardly believe that it was the baby I used to dread people seeing. He is perfectly cured, and has a beautiful growth of hair coming. I am very grateful to you and you are at liberty to use this if it will be a help to any one. EAST PORTLAND MATTERS.

A Good Show ng Made by the Public Schoo s for the Month.

From Far Off Germany—Baby Home Dona'ions—To Be Invest gated—New Fire Engine—Misce'laneous Notes.

The schools of East Portland on the 8th instant, closed up the work of the last month It has been a month of great perplexities to the teachers as well as to the school directors, but all have worked faithfully, and have entered upon another month with cheerfulness. The following is the report for the month ending December 8

MR. BURKHARDT HEARD FROM

A letter was recently received from Mr Joseph Burkhardt who is now in Germany with his family The following extract will be of interest to the many friends of the family in East Portland "We have had so far, a very good trip, and enjoyed ourselves very much Have put the boys to school here at Mannheim, in a private institution, and Annie and Susie will have to go to school next week in an institute at Menenhain, in Tam use, close to Frankfort. We have been all through the castle here, which is an enormous building and contains a fine collection of paint ings and a great many antiquities, some of which are claimed to be 4000 years old We also went through the rooms of the Grand Duke of Baden, which are very grand and contain a great many pictures." The letter states that the family will remain at Mannheim for some time, and also will be at Frankfort-on-Soden Mr Burkhardt went to the old country to enjoy himself and educate his children.

NEW FIRE ENGINE

A member of the common council made the statement last night that an effort will be made to secure a new fire engine for East Portland, and that it will be placed in Stephens addition That it is needed at the point named there can be no question, and while this is true, the engine, if purchased, should be placed in the hands of those who can handle it at a fire without getting into a fight. There is splendid material in Grant Engine Company, but there is some poor material that will have to be weeded out While the council is considering the matter of procuring a fire engine, the subject of fire cisterns should also be considered Indeed, it would seem that the construction of cisterns should precede the purchase of a fire engine, as there is nothing so much interferes with the successful working of a fire engine as the lack of water

INVESTIGATION PROMISED

There will be a special meeting of the Fire Board this evening, to canvass the vote for chief engineer cast at the firemen s election last week also to consider some other important matters which will arise It is understood that there will be some charges preferred against some of the firemen belonging to Grant Engine Company for irregularities at the burning of the Stephens school house, and the offenders will be raked over the coals in a manner befitting their offense

BABY HOME DONATIONS.

Among the donations received at the Baby Home for Thanksgiving was a box containing a number of dainty little foot wear, made of wool in pretty colors with a card inclosed on which was inscribed "Forget-me-not" and was brought by a party of little girls. GLEANINGS FROM LEGAL RECORDS

Allowed to Borrow Money—Case Continued—Police Court—Indictment Dismissed—Bi otter

The petition of C K Scott, receiver of the Oregonian Railway Company to be allowed to borrow $5 000 to make necessary repairs to the cars of the company was granted yesterday by Judge Deady There are 121 box and combination cars owned by the company, the roofs of which need repairing to prevent damage to freight. This will cost from $20 to $25 per car For the past three months the road has about paid operating expenses, but there is no money on hand to pay for the necessary repairs to the cars Having permission of the court Mr Scott will now proceed to borrow the money and give a receiver's certificate for it which will rank with the first mortgage bonds

THE THEATERS LAST NIGHT

Miss Charlotte Thompson's Impersonations in East Lynne—"Blunders" Still Draws at Cordray's

'East Lynne' a play full of tear compelling force and one of the oldest in the repertoire of emotional plays, still has power to reach the sensibilities of an audience, and even veteran play goers find their emotions stirred at the sorrowful lot of the unhappy heroine. Especially is this the case when her woes are depicted by so conscientious and intelligent an artist as Miss Charlotte Thompson The character is hardly suited, in its moments of strong passion, to her quiet and intense style but so consistently is her conception of the role carried out that it is artistic throughout She is best in the quiet scenes, in the delineation of strong but subdued emotion, but her strength is hardly sufficient to rise to the dramatic demands of the strongest situation in the play— be parting with her betrayer She is an exquisite picture as the young wife, she portrays admirably the gradual workings of the poisonous seeds of jealousy, and the scene with her boy is full of tenderness and mother love Her dying scene also was a most pathetic bit of work

The company hardly appears to as good advantage as in Jane Eyre Mr Terance makes a manly, dignified and altogether efficient Archibald Carlyle, Mr R. Valentine an indifferent Sir Francis Levison Mr R. H Stephens an amusing Mr Dill, Amelia Watts an acceptable but rather cold Barbara Hare, and Mrs. G Howard a fair Miss Coeny Carlyle

To night is the last night of Miss Thompson when she will appear in a new play entitled 'Hearts Astray"

CORDRAY S MUSEE THEATER.

'Blunders' attracted another large audience last night, who laughed uproariously at the amusing complications of the comedy The presence of a real, live 3 months-old baby and a live pug dog are bits of realism that add to the amusement

Ladies' and children s matinee to day at 1 30 when the Newcomb family will give their entertaining performance in the musee

KATIE PUTNAM

A cordial welcome awaits the return of this favorite Since Miss Putnam last appeared in Portland she has played in all the principal cities of Australia, also one week in Honolulu under the patronage and in the presence of King Kalakaua and the Prince and Princess of Bourbon She now returns to the scenes of her early triumphs crowned with new laurels and bringing some very flattering notices from the press of Melbourne and Sidney During Miss Putnam s engagement here she will present three of her popular plays, 'Erma The Elf' 'Honor Bound' and "Dad's-Girl" 'Erma' will be given on the opening night, Thursday

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS.

Look Out for Sharp Advances

During the past ninety days the Oregon Land and Investment Company have erected twelve beautiful houses scattered over that handsome and sightly tract of land on the Vancouver Motor line known as Woodlawn, the only station having a depot on that line In addition to these five other houses have been built by purchasers of lots and many others will be started early in the new year The motor line company are now erecting a large and commodious car house, covered with corrugated iron putting in repair shops, water works etc thus making the place 'head quarters" for their employes of both the mechanical and operating department. That all these improvements are substantial and the arrangements recognized as permanent is attested by the fact that over one hundred full sized lots were sold in this beautiful suburban villa in thirty-one days and notwithstanding the very wet weather of late, the demand for lots continues As all unsold lots will be advanced New Year's day those desirous of bargains either for home sites or speculative purposes should look the matter up at once before the choice locations are picked out. Maps and free transportation will be furnished at 2 Washington street, corner Front

VALUABLE ACREAGE

Doubled in Value Every Sixty Days

A mania exists for acre property next adjacent to prosperous cities It is a justifiable mania for the rapidly made fortunes in the Northwest have accrued from acre property The demand for this class of land is constantly increasing and values increase accordingly The real facts are that a bona fide increase of double the starting value has occurred each sixty days to property surrounding such cities as Port Townsend and if the history of prior cities is a just crite on it being the only basis of estimate at hand then the increase is real and not imaginary One thing is certain and that is tha the money has been paid for this property at the increased rates, and with the prospective growth of Port Townsend future prices would continue to increase until such lands fall into the hands of men who will hold it until the increased demands of the city embraces this acreage within the city limits of that promising city the gateway to the Pacific Ocean The custom house receipts at Port Townsend show such immense gains that there seems to be excellent grounds for the faith shown in that city

BIDS SUBMITTED

For Grading a Railroad—Work to Follow Speedily

Bids for the construction work of the O R & N or Union Pacific for the Wallowa branch from La Grande to Elgin were submitted on Monday and the successful bidder will soon be known If his name is not published somewhere in this issue This means spirited times for La Grande and it also means an increased population, increased values in real estate increased commercial interests with its new stores and firms, new warehouses, etc Eventually La Grande should be the flour center of Eastern Washington together with general manufacturing interests of that whole section for the raw material in minerals timber and produce are concentrated there The completion of this Wallowa branch will make La Grande one of the better cities in Oregon or at least should The advent of activity to Oregon cities is a source of joy to the citizens of the state

DOLPH IN PARIS, FRANCE.

The Paris Exposition Develops the Importance of American Products

The Manufacturer in Uncle Sam s Domain Walks Away With Nearly All the Big Prizes—American Skill and Ingenuity Lead

Frank Leslie s Illustrated

American Laundry Machinery —One of the most elites in the way of machinery exhibits from this country at the Paris exposition was the extensive display of the A M Dolph Company manufacturers of laundry machines with headquarters in Cincinnati, Chicago and New York The exhibit was ahead of anything of its kind in the exposition, and was the only one of its kind in the American department American visitors noted this fact and commented upon it The display of the A M. Dolph Company was not only unique but extensive and elaborate It included collar and cuff ironers, collar and cuff shapers and dampeners, starching machines wringers of various kinds washing machines, wringers of various kinds mangles gas iron heaters and a multitude of other machines necessary for a complete laundry equipment

America excels in the manufacture of laundry machinery, and the best that has been developed by American genius is manufactured by the A M Dolph Company Its business has grown to such a numerous extent that no laundry is considered fully equipped to meet all the requirements of trade unless it has some at least of the Dolph Company s products and the most perfect laundries in the country and we might add the most successful are those that have been entirely equipped by this concern

Every contrivance that would lead to an economy of expenditure in the business has been secured by the Dolph Company, and it has applied not only the ingenuity of its managers but also that of others wherever it was manifested in the invention and construction of laundry machinery The product of this combined skill is of the highest class and it was the judgment of the finest French mechanics who inspected the display at the Paris exposition, that it honored the exhibitors Special attention was attracted by the finest of all the work, as well as by the ingeniousness of the mechanical devices

Many English exhibitors were struck by the simplicity and yet the durability of every machine in the exhibit of this company s department Those who had never seen the process of washing and laundrying by machinery spent much time by the Dolph exhibit and it was the cause of amusement among people from the interior sections who had never seen anything in the way of laundry machinery except a wash tub washing board and a flatiron All sorts of questions were asked in reference to the ironing machines, and crowds assembled about the washer to see such an enormous washing done with very little expense.

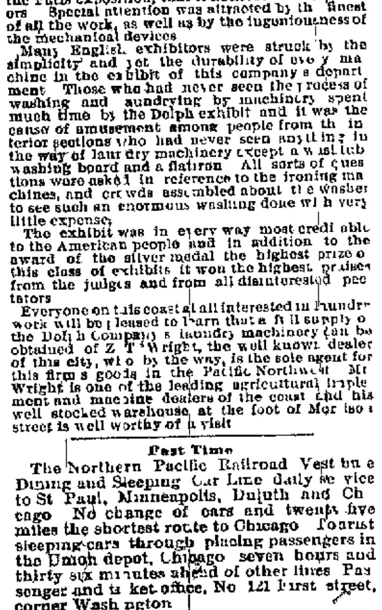

The exhibit was in every way most creditable to the American people and in addition to the award of the silver medal the highest prize of this class of exhibits it won the highest praises from the judges and from all disinterested spectators

Everyone on this coast at all interested in laundry work will be pleased to learn that a full supply of the Dolph Company s laundry machinery can be obtained of Z T Wright, the well known dealer of this city, who by the way, is the sole agent for this firm s goods in the Pacific Northwest Mr Wright is one of the leading agricultural implement and machine dealers of the coast and his well stocked warehouse at the foot of Morrison street is well worthy of a visit

Where are going, my pretty maid?
I'm going to Kohn's, kind sir, to trade

Why do you go there, my pretty maid?
His stock is the biggest, sir, she said.

But how are his prices, my pretty maid?
They're lower than anyone else has made.

Can I go with you, my pretty maid?
Pleased with your company, sir, she said.

So then these two, the man and maid,
Went hurrying off to Kohn's to trade.

And when the man went home he said
I've found the very best bargain maid.
